Tax levies up slightly

Township, Village rates rise with inflation

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

The natural increase of inflation and new construction in the village account for an 8 percent increase in Antioch's tax levy for 1996.

Since the state-imposed tax cap, the village cannot ask for more than the current rate of inflation which is set at 2.9 percent or 5 percent above last year's levy, whichever is less.

The board adopted the 8 percent increase which includes the 2.9 percent inflationary rate and a 5.1 percent increase in estimated new construction the village hopes to collect in taxes.

As a back-up, Village Administrator Tim Wells presented a 6 percent levy increase which includes the rate of inflation and a 3.1 increase in new construction. The Lake County Clerk's Office ultimately determines how much the village can levy.

"I think the 6 percent is closer to what we'll get, but we want to take advantage of as much as we can," Wells told trustees.

Villages generally estimate more in new construction for fear of losing the opportunity to collect the taxes on the new construction in See LEVIES page A7

Access to township hall stirs more controversy

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

A formal policy to allow all organizations equal access to the Antioch Township Hall may be forthcoming next month as trustees further debated the controversial issue.

Township Supervisor Jim Fields said his open-door policy of making a key available to groups, organizations or other government bodies has been trouble-free for the past 19 years.

"Anyone wishing to use the building has the right to use the building. I've always been there to open or close the building," Fields said. "There's never been a problem until now."

Some trustees and other discontented township residents begged to differ and argued that Fields wields too much power as the sole person to decide who gets access and who does not.

The issue was raised after the Alliance For Better Government was denied access to the building last month. Fields told group representatives that he would be out of town during the meeting and See HALL page A5

Rotary gets insight on world relations, U.S. strife

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

In many respects, Rotary International, supported by local Rotary Clubs worldwide, serves as a model in racial harmony and human relations.

Fellow Rotarian Edward Widmer gave his insights to the Antioch Rotary Club about world relations as well as a perspective on internal forces within the United States that may disrupt civil order.

As an international business management consultant and a consultant for diplomatic security, Widmer offered first-hand knowledge about international trends and an outsider-looking-in view on some peculiar forces developing within the United States.

"After being out of the country for so many years, I tend to look at the United States from a different perspective," said Widmer, who has toured more than 60 countries during the last 25 years. He still remains an active member of the Rotary Club in Wilmette.

As a diplomatic security consultant now working in North Korea, Widmer is a leading expert on national security.

For example, Widmer noted that American politicians were quick to claim victory for the rapid fall of Communism during the late 1980s, but national security experts readily admitted that the fall was completely unexpected, especially the rapid domino effect in Central Europe.

"It took the Poles about 10 years to break the shackles of Communism," Widmer said. "It took the Hungarians about 10 months; it took the East Germans about 10 weeks; it took the Czechoslovaks about 10 days; and it took the Romanians about 10 hours."

He said national security experts tend to label decades by significant events. For example, he said the '60s are referred to as the decade of "skyjacking," the '70s the decade of "drug cartels," and the '80s the decade of "Islamic fundamentalism."

Although Americans might be unaware of it, Widmer said the 1990s would be considered the decade of "anarchy and civil unrest." From tribal conflicts in Africa to religious disputes in Ireland and India to racial and ethnic hatreds in Bosnia, he said there are 35 civil wars currently ongoing around the world.

And he pointed out that similar trends of "anarchy and civil unrest" are brewing and may be on the verge of erupting in the United States.

Three forces within the United States are silently creating a potential for sparks of civil disruption, Widmer said.

One of those forces includes the rise of militia groups which he referred to as "white backlash." The militia groups commonly preach their missions on short-wave radio or Internet discussion groups, he noted.

From Michigan and Minnesota to Nevada and Oregon these militia groups are calling for armed resistance against the federal government and other authorities or groups.

"This is one of the threats to the stability of the United States," Widmer warned.

At the same time, Widmer said there is the rise of "black backlash" from ghetto kingpins enforcing drug dealing to Islamic groups encouraging blacks to rise up against a white-dominated society. Louis Farrakhan, for example, received $5 million from Libya to help fund the Million-Man March in Washington D.C.

"Fundamentalist Islam is infiltrating some groups, and Middle Eastern countries are funding their causes," Widmer said.

The third and underlying force solidifying the two anarchical groups is America's natural tendency to accept violence, he said.

"We have more guns and military hardware available to the citizenry than any other country in the world," Widmer noted.

Widmer pointed out some statistics to justify his claim. In 1994, England had 28 homicides as a result of handguns, Japan had 10 and Switzerland had one.

"In 1994, the United States had more murders in our post offices than all of the European countries put together," Widmer said.

He alleged that the "global illness" of hatred between peoples is rooted in racism.

One possible cure for the illness, he said, is providing models of understanding between peoples.

"We need models of racial harmony that promote the brotherhood of man," Widmer said.

Rotary International serves as such a model, he said. With clubs in 155 countries, Rotary International encompasses all races, and a variety of service projects, international exchanges and world conferences bring people together in an environment of understanding and learning, not violence, he said.

"People tend to believe that the races can't get along," Widmer said. "We know that Rotary International has disproved that. I'm a believer that the world can heal itself."

Mayor Marilyn Shineflug said the levy increase will not dramatically affect the tax rate for homeowners. Last year's levy estimated a tax rate at about $1.01 per $100 of assessed value of a person's home. After the county clerk's extension, taxpayers paid about 99 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

She expects the same rate this year as well. Antioch Township also approved a 2.7 percent increase in its levy over last year from $402,880 to $420,000. The highway department also presented a modest increase from $431,430 last year to $441,000 this year.

"It's strictly an estimate of what we expect," noted Township Supervisor Jim Fields.

Levies

"They (clerk's office) may call us and tell us we may have levied too much, but they're never going to call us to raise the amount," Wells pointed out.

He also said the village generally assesses about $12 million in new building or building improvements annually. Approximately a third of that amount is taxable.

Wells expects the commuter train station to spur new economic development in the future and thus provide a greater taxing base for the village.

"Once the railroad starts, our assessed evaluation will go up significantly," Wells said.

Chamber mixer deemed successful; more to come

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

An encouraging number of Antioch Chamber of Commerce members shared cheese and crackers as well as punch to kick-off its soon-to-be regular after-hours mixer.

James Hamlin Inc. and Lasco's Florist sponsored the Christmas get-together for Antioch Chamber members and members hope to continue the tradition on a more regular basis.

"It's an absolute," said Don Moshur of MainStreet Interiors and board of director of the chamber. "The social hours will be every other month, and they will also be held at a member's facility."

The after-hours social coincides with the now monthly business meeting and power breakfast for chamber members. The next business meeting will be held at Antioch High School Dec. 28 at 7:30 a.m.

"Certainly, it's a networking opportunity," Moshur said of the social mixer. "It encourages involvement among chamber members without a business meeting setting, and it reinforces the idea to do business with other chamber members."

Impressed by the turnout at the social, Moshur also said attendance has been growing at the business meetings as well.

"People have been speaking highly about the direction the chamber is taking during the last couple of months," Moshur noted.

A few chamber members went home with more than what they entered with at the social gathering. Three were winners of raffle prizes. Ted Axton, president of First National Bank, went home with a 3-foot pine. Randy Miles, president of the State Bank of the Lakes, won a Christmas basket. Ed Cimaglio, proprietor of Distinctive Designs, walked away with a poinsettia.

Chamber elects three new board members

Members of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce elected three new members to sit on the board of directors.

Elected members include: Marc Lubkeman of Edward D. Jones, Colleen Osmond of Osmond Insurance, and Larry Hanson of BJ's Fashions for Men. All three will serve three-year terms.

Outgoing members of the board of directors include: Robert Mueller, president; Karen Dunham, vice president; and John McNeill, board member.

Elections are held yearly to fill three seats on the nine-member board of directors. Board officer elections will be held at the next board meeting.

An installation dinner will be held Jan. 27 to honor the outgoing board members and to introduce the new board members.

Sequoit Pride extends deadline

Sequoit Pride, a non-profit organization dedicated to the improvement of Antioch Community High School, announced that it will extend the deadline for its car raffle fund raiser to April 1, 1996.

Club spokesperson Ed Kozirowski said the extension was necessary because of lagging ticket prices.

If the ticket sales do not reach the $14,500 goal by April 1, a 50-50 split will be the winning prize in lieu of the car. The other raffle prizes remain the same.

"The community has been very supportive of our decision," Kozirowski said. "We appreciate everyone's understanding, confident that we will be able to reach our goal..."

Last year, Sequoit Pride donated more than $20,000 to purchase much needed equipment and supplies for Antioch High School.

Sequoit Pride's membership has grown to more than 245 members from the Antioch, Lake Villa, Lindenhurst and Wadsworth areas.

See Me For All Your 1996 Advertising Needs.

Whether business is good or slow, you have to get your share of whatever business is around. Cutting back your advertising puts you at a disadvantage the very moment you need an edge. Increasing your advertising gives you the edge.

In times of uncertainty, consumers are careful and a little reluctant to spend. They want information. One of the main ways they get information about products, services, prices and values is from advertising. Yours or somebody else's.

Here's a hard fact to chew on. Over any given period, a company that advertises below the industry average has sales that are below the industry average.

Advertising is news-about products and services. Most consumers look for this kind of news in the pages of their community newspaper. In plush times, retailers often experiment with other media. But when the going gets tough, they concentrate their efforts in the community newspaper because it provides immediate payoff at the cash register.

Now is a great time to call me. I have a genuine concern for my clients. I will never try to sell you more than you need. I work hard at finding what will work for you.

I can bring your business to the attention of over 200,000 potential customers in 13 papers across Lake County, or reach just one community! Call me today, your success is my business!

Road dept. complies with drug testing regs

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

One strike and you are out is the new drug and alcohol testing policy for Antioch Township employees who operate heavy equipment.

Highway Commissioner Mark Ring announced that the township highway department will be complying with the new federal commercial driver's license drug and alcohol testing program.

By joining the Mid-West Trucker's Association, the seven township employees with commercial driver's licenses will be subject to yearly and random drug testing. The Mid-West Trucking Association will test half of its 50,000 members a year.

Anyone testing positive for drugs or alcohol on the first attempt will be terminated immediately, Ring stressed.

"There will be no second chances," Ring said.

New federal requirements are mandating the drug and alcohol policy, Ring said. It costs the township approximately $60 per person a year to become a member of Mid-West Trucking Association and to comply with the federal mandate.

"I've seen nothing that would make me suspicious of township employees, but we have to comply with the new requirements," Ring said.

He also noted that people who are on prescription drugs should make the testing agency aware of the prescriptions because the doctor-prescribed drugs will be detected on the tests.

Ring also said the policy is aimed to protect the public from drivers who may be operating heavy equipment while under the influence of drugs or alcohol.

"It could be re-assuring to know that there is a program in place to eliminate a possible problem," Ring said.

Jaycees help wishes come true

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Antioch Jaycees literally had an overflowing sleigh full of Christmas gifts to deliver to Antioch area children as part of the Christmas Wish Tree.

For the past several weeks, patrons to the State Bank of the Lakes in Antioch and First National Bank of Antioch have been picking names from Christmas trees and buying gifts for the less fortunate children in the area.

According to Joel Johnson, a Jaycee member and vice president of the First National Bank of Antioch, the Jaycees delivered toys, clothes, and other needs to more than 200 children in the community. He estimated that the people of the community bought more than $5,000 worth of gifts to deliver to needy children.

"It is provided from the people in the community for the people in the community," said Johnson, explaining the Christmas Wish Tree program, now in its sixth year.

The State Bank of the Lakes and the First National Bank of Antioch housed the Christmas trees, while do-good residents purchased gifts for anonymous children. Gifts literally spilled out of a sleigh at the State Bank of the Lakes. Jaycee volunteers delivered the gifts all last week Dec. 19-22.

"The Jaycees are the ones who actually coordinate and distribute the gifts, but the gifts are actually provided by the people in the community," Johnson said.

Gifts were delivered to children living in the village, Antioch

Township and other outlying areas, Johnson said.

Johnson also praised the efforts of other community organizations such as the Antioch Junior Woman's Club and the Antioch Rotary Club for having their members select numerous names. Businesses, such as Pickard China, ordered up to 25 to 30 names for their employees to buy gifts for the needy children.

"What is neat is that other service organizations came to us to help out," Johnson said. "We've gotten great support from the financial institutions in Antioch and local businesses."

Antioch cable subscribers may realize new savings

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Though small, Antioch residents subscribing to U.S. Cable could expect a rebate for this year's basic service and realize a savings next year.

Thanks to the efforts of a consortium of 11 different governing bodies, U.S. Cable has been ordered to refund each subscriber approximately 96 cents for basic service over the past year. Subscribers will also receive the same savings for basic service next year as U.S. Cable has been ordered to freeze its rates through next year.

Current subscribers will also realize a $2.52 savings next year in equipment charges. Total savings for each subscriber, including rebate, is $4.44.

According to a report issued by the consortium, new customers subscribing to U.S. Cable will now realize a $30.27 savings as compared to past years.

The 11-member consortium includes Waukegan, Lake County, Gurnee, Zion, North Chicago, Lindenhurst, Beach Park, Antioch, Winthrop Harbor, Green Oaks, and Third Lake.

On Dec. 19, Gurnee became the first village to adopt the rate order pertaining to basic service rates. The Antioch Village Board is expected to follow suit at its next meeting Jan. 2.

"We will reduce your rates accordingly," said Village Administrator Tim Wells. "Most of the towns in the consortium will vote by the first of January."

Through the federal Cable Television Consumer Protection and Competition Act of 1992, the consortium consolidated resources to hire an outside accounting firm to review the rates charged by U.S. Cable for basic service and related equipment and maintenance costs which are generally passed onto the consumer.

Overall, the consortium was able to save $193,546 for more than 50,000 subscribers. For Antioch, 1,878 subscribers save $7,012.

Wells noted that the savings would only include basic service, not costs for premium channels.

Under the agreement passed by Gurnee, U.S. Cable cannot implement any new charges for basic service without review by the consortium. Wells said, however, the cable company can raise rates for inflationary reasons or for technology improvements.

Wells invited the public to attend the next board meeting Jan. 2 at 7:30 p.m. when the village board is expected to discuss and vote on the cable agreement.

Township increases salt for early snowfalls

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

After last year's mild winter, Antioch Township Highway Department snow plow drivers have been a little bit busier this winter.

Due to early snow and ice storms, Highway Commissioner Mark Ring reported that his seven-man crew has averaged more overtime so far this winter than all of last winter.

With 80 miles of roads to plow clean, Antioch Township drivers command the largest township road network in Lake County.

Ring said he has raised the salt content in the ice-control mix to melt the snow quicker on township roadways. Snow plows spread a mixture of sand and salt on the road.

"It seems to be working quite well. We've had no complaints so far as far as road conditions are concerned," Ring said.

By increasing the salt content in the salt-sand mix, Ring said it is more costly. Salt averages about $5 a ton, while the going rate for sand is about $1 per ton.

"We have used a lot of salt, and there is still a lot of winter left," Ring said.

But Ring said using more salt now may prove less costly come spring time because the township hires Grant Township to sweep the streets free of sand during the spring.

"We're hoping in the spring it won't be anywhere as expensive as previous springs to sweep the sand," Ring said.

Despite having to predict snowfall from varying forecasts by Milwaukee and Chicago weather reports, Ring said there is ample salt for the time being and his crews are ready to go at a moment's notice.

"All we really need is a warning that it is coming," Ring said.

Briefs

Chamber meets at ACHS

Members of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce are invited to a general business at Antioch Community High School Dec. 28 at 7:30 a.m. in the school cafeteria. A tour of the school will be included for interested participants.

Area businesses help high school

Various Antioch businesses have offered to serve as drop-off points for people interested in donating cross country ski equipment and ice skates for the Antioch Community High School Physical Education Department. Drop-off locations include: Antioch Community High School, Main Street; Antioch True Value, Orchard Street; First National Bank of Antioch, Lake Street; Lindenhurst True Value, Grand Avenue; and the State Bank of the Lakes in Antioch and Lindenhurst.

New Year's Eve party planned

The Antioch Junior Woman's Club is sponsoring its second annual "Family New Year's Eve Party" Dec. 30 from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. at St. Peter's Church. The party is purposely planned for the night before New Year's Eve to allow people to celebrate with their family and to celebrate again the following night. Cost is $15 per adult and $5 per child over 15. For more information, call Laurie Stahl at 395-2958.

Another stroll through Antioch comes to a close

Don Marski, owner. Jingle bells, yes, this is the store with the Christmas spirit. And if you're in need of Christmas cards, this is the right place. "Cheer someone up."

Pleasant Vicky Zimny is head cashier up front, just checking out her own nice mother, Jean Lewandowski.

Carl Leather Berry is here, probably for a nice Christmas present for his dear wife, Pearl.

Sweet Sue Glenn is over in arts and crafts of which she has vast knowledge. There's fabulous toys and games of all kinds for kids, and us big kids, too.

Jovial Jan Wilke, is another local stroller among the artificial trees, beautifully lit, and decorated.

Martha Sturm and Vera Mair are also getting into the spirit.

Our popular and efficient Police Chief Chuck Miller is chatting with Don Marski on his security rounds.

I see dear friend Mary Anichini, former operator of "The Pantry" here many years ago.

Over in books and literature, I greet Frank Skrzynecki, otherwise known as "Frank the Roofer."

Justine Lubkeman is browsing through the tapestries, rugs and afghans while Bing Crosby's recording of "The Bells of Saint Marys" is playing.

Walking through frames and pictures is Betty Sheehan and Marge Settee, both former employees. And over the loud speaker again with Bing Crosby comes "White Christmas."

State Bank of the Lakes

Randy Miles, president. A smooth running place of business, with capable executives. There's compatibility a plenty. For me, I'll change that to friends.

I wave over to vice president Wally Jasowski, in his comfortable, efficient office.

Roger Manderscheid—there's none better. And Jean Rockow, my friend since I first entered the bank.

And just recently, Fran Marshall befriended me, when I ran out of blank checks. She promptly ordered me new ones, thanks.

Carolyn Blanchette, an experienced trust officer, who has aided me in the past. Jeanine Kasproicz, Betty Sutcliffe, Norma Kane, Denise Wells, Connie Anichini, friends of her and family, Chris Martin.

Tom Cody, I don't know, because I haven't seen him in over a year. I hope he's well.

Looks like I lost my dear friend and neighbor Suzette Winner. To me she'll always be a winner! Beverly Turner, my dear friend and neighbor. Carl Wurster, always a pleasure to meet. Heard that Hank Apostle has left. Now he can spend more time with his lovely daughter Beverly Rzyko and Barbara Christensen. (Julie, oops I think Miss B has retired, best wishes).

When I am in need of medical attention, my legs take me to the above center, where for more years than I care to count, this fine facility has always steered me in the right direction for keeping fit.

I can't thank them enough for the many times they've put me back together again, so I could keep ring on "Strolling." Bless them!

Farewell to Yellow Bird

Vi and Al have retired, which meant the end of a wonderful era.

Since I was unable to write a "Stroll" last Christmas, let me digress a little. Most of you know that Vi and my dear late wife Ginger grew up together in Chicago, same neighborhood, same school, south side. That's where it all began. But if two people ever deserved a rest it's Vi and Al. "God bless them." Vi rubbed elbows with the best of them. A natural.

She also left her mark back in Chicago many years ago. She will be missed by many. To name a few: Hot Nuts Ron and his Polka Originals, Ernie Stetaz, Stephan, Uncle Jess and Stardusters, Ed Broniecki and his Cordovoox, Barbara Flannum and her Carousels, Bill Stutz, Eddie Korosa and his Babydoll Tavern in Chicago, John Hyzny and Laurie from the Personality Lounge on Archer Avenue. We were all family! "Memories that bless and burn."

Well folks, I hope you were all right along with me, on this our last "Sentimental Journey." Lord willing, we shall pass this way again. For "Auld Lang Syne," have happy memories of Vi, a great trouper and her yellow bird. Amen!

COURAGE plans winter events

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

An anti-gang organization will have a busy winter of events for teens and adults alike.

Community Outreach Uniting Residents Against Gang Environment (COURAGE) is preparing for two major winter events. One of them is a teen lock-in and another is a combination ski trip and leadership conference.

The lock-in is planned for Jan. 12 at B. J. Hooper School in Lindenhurst. The event will go from 8 p.m. to 7 a.m. Cost is $10.

Included is an open gym with an opportunity to play basketball and volleyball. There also will be speakers from Gateway Institute explaining the dangers of drug and alcohol abuse.

Food and games will be part of the activities. The event is open to students from grades 8 to 12.

COURAGE has both a youth and adult group. Anyone residing in Antioch, Grayslake, Lake Villa and Lindenhurst is welcome to join.

The Lindenhurst Kiwanis Club will provide chaperones and financial support for the ski trip to Devil's Head Resort in Baraboo, Wis. on Feb. 3-4.

The trip is open to dues paying members. A membership costs $10. The trip includes transportation, two meals and lodging and will cost about $50 per person.

The trip is more than fun and games. Teens will also attend a leadership conference as well. It's open for teens grade 8-12.

About 40 teens will be permitted to go. The bus will leave the Lindenhurst Village Hall at about 6 a.m. on Feb. 3, according to Linda Bergin of COURAGE.

The teen group will meet the first three weeks in January. The group meets from 6:30 to 8 p.m. on Jan. 4, 11, and 18.

The general meeting will be held on Jan. 24 at 7:30 p.m. in the Lake Villa District Library annex.

For more information, call Bergin at 356-6788.

Ballfield access concerns residents

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

Two residents urged Lake Villa trustees to put some type of signage on Grass Lake Road to prepare for a subdivision and future baseball fields.

They were concerned there might be more accidents by the Painted Lakes subdivision and a future baseball field at the Sun Lake Forest Preserve.

"They come up that hill so fast," said resident Chuck Whitney. "You are asking for trouble."

Whitney said the entrance to the subdivision is going to be adjacent to an existing driveway off Grass Lake Road. He said a curve in the road gives people trouble as well.

"There have been at least three times this year when someone has gone in the ditch," Whitney said.

"My concern is my driveway is near the entrances of both places and people drive too fast," Scheidt said.

The Painted Lakes subdivision is in the beginning phases. It will eventually have 675 units. The baseball field would be just to the west of Deep Lake Road and will eventually have four playing fields on 14 acres of land.

The Lake County Forest Preserve Board is expected to vote in January on allowing the baseball fields. The village is seeking a 20-year lease for the Lake Villa Township Baseball League. The league will be the designated users for the site.

Mayor Frank Loffredo assured residents the board will consider providing some signage. He also explained the field will only be used in daylight hours.

A public address system will only be used for tournaments and not regular league games, according to Loffredo.

True Value stops thief

Police arrested Kenneth Mortensen, 32, of Antioch, for retail theft at True Value after he reportedly attempted to exit the store without paying for some items. According to police, an off-duty True Value employee observed Mortensen remove a modular jack from the shelves, rip open the package, place it in his coat pocket and leave the store without paying for it. Police learned he also had an armored connector and armored cap in his pockets. Mortensen apparently paid for an extension cord but not the items in his pockets, police reported. Mortensen admitted to taking the adapter but denied taking the connector or cap, saying he bought those items earlier in the month. Total value of the items taken was $11.43. Mortensen was charged with theft and released on recognizance bond for a Jan. 24 court date in Grayslake.

Faulty headlight yields arrest

On Dec. 14, police stopped a vehicle on Route 83 near Joanna Court for a faulty headlight. Police arrested Philip Brown, 26, of Antioch, for improper lighting, no valid driver's license and operating an uninsured vehicle. According to police, Brown could not provide a driver's license or proof of insurance and later learned that his license expired last March. He was released on $2,000 recognizance bond and will appear in Grayslake court Jan. 10.

Wisconsin driver can't drive in Ill.

Police stopped Albert Loible, 34, of Pell Lake, Wis., for a malfunctioning tail light Dec. 14. Police said Loible presented a Wisconsin driver's license, but police learned his license was revoked in Illinois. Loible was charged with driving while revoked and operating a vehicle on a foreign license while revoked. He was released on recognizance bond and will appear in Grayslake court Jan. 24.

Fish tailing prohibited

On Dec. 17 police arrested Jeremy Percy, 17, of Lindenhurst, after he reportedly made a left turn from Lake Street onto Main Street and began spinning his tires and fish tailing. Percy told police he did not have a driver's license but had a permit through California. After further investigation, police found no proof of a permit or an Illinois driver's license. He was charged with improper lane usage and released on $1,000 recognizance bond. Court is scheduled for Jan. 10 in Grayslake.

Crossing centerline hints to DUI

Police arrested Jeffrey Peterson, 28, of Round Lake, for driving under the influence. Police said Peterson crossed the centerline near Rte. 59 and Rte. 173, bumped a curb at Hillside and Orchard streets and was traveling 50 mph in a 40 mph zone. Police detected a strong odor of alcohol and said Peterson was unsteady on his feet and slurred his speech. Peterson registered a .26 on a breathalyzer test. He is scheduled for Waukegan court Jan. 9.

Hall

From page A1: The building would not be available to open and close the door.

Ironically, Township Assessor Cliff Houghton was the guest speaker for the Alliance For Better Government meeting, but was not given a key to open the building.

Carolyn Jonites, secretary of the Alliance for Better Government, said she was forced to find a meeting place at the Antioch Village Hall at the last minute.

"They were wonderful about it. All we had to do was fill out an application. They had the key waiting for us in the police department," Jonites said in a later interview.

Trustee Claudette Skvarce questioned how the Republican Club, for example, could regularly meet at the township hall, sometimes without the assistance of a key from Fields, while other organizations were denied access.

"The Republican Club gets in here and you're not always available," said Skvarce, hinting toward political reasons as to why the Alliance For Better Government was denied access.

She demanded a written policy that allows another trustee or township employee to be able to open the doors if the supervisor is unavailable.

"The thing that upsets me is that the taxpayers have a right to use the building for meetings," Skvarce said. "As an elected official of Antioch Township, I feel I should be able to open the door for a meeting if you're not available."

Fields responded that he is responsible for the upkeep of the building as well as the equipment inside. He noted that some items were stolen after a Loon Lake organization met at the township hall.

"I'm totally responsible for everything in this building," Fields said. "I'm not giving you a key; I'm not giving (Trustee) Tim Osmond a key. I am responsible for this building."

Skvarce went on to point out that policies at other townships, such as Lake Villa and Wauconda, have an open-door policy without the need of the supervisor to open or close the door. She said organizations must fill out an application and are held responsible for any damage done to the building.

"It should not be a problem for any other elected official to open the door," Skvarce said.

Skvarce will be drafting a new meeting policy for vote at the next township board meeting scheduled for Jan. 11.

The stockings are hung, but the shopping's not done

Holiday greetings to all the folks out there in Antioch and any friends and relatives that might be visiting. Once again I started the holiday season off the old traditional way: the Friday after Thanksgiving I donned my festive sweatshirt that says "Ho Ho Ho My Christmas Shopping Is All Done" and went and sat in the food court at Gurnee Mills—some people don't display very much holiday spirit towards me! If only that special Christmas magic could last throughout the year.

I love the holidays, the hustle, bustle and fist fights over parking spaces, the burning of Christmas cookies, using Neal's credit cards instead of mine. I enjoy being able to hold the Almighty Santa Claus over the heads of some rather unruly children. I bask in the anticipation of Christmas morning. I try to make a big deal out of Christmas for our girls. I start preparing for Christmas the day after Christmas. Yea, I overdue it, but I figure how many more years do I have to play Santa Claus?

Once the girls get old enough to know whose stocking the tree for Christmas morning, I figure some of the sparkle will be worn off the tinsel and I'll be shopping at the last minute to keep up with the latest trends just like all the other hip moms. Growing up we always celebrated Christmas on Christmas Eve. The tradition went like this: we attended 5:30 mass, after which we ate dinner, then opened presents under the glow of the Christmas tree. What about Santa Claus, you say? Well, mom would pile us all in the car for church while dad hung back and loaded the presents under the tree.

JINGLE FROM PRINGLE

Then when we returned home from church they would tell us we were so good Santa came early. Being the gullible little fools we were, we swallowed it hook, line and sinker. That is until we were old enough to see over the dashboard of the car and directly into the living room window. Then we would watch daddy frantically scurry around trying to get everything in place. We put up with that charade well into our high school years—not that we continued to believe in Santa Claus, we just loved watching daddy drive himself into a frenzy.

'Tis the season. One of my fondest Christmas memories is the year I was very pregnant with Tricia and the St. Peter's Choir gave me a baby shower after signing Midnight Mass. My Christmas from hell came the year I was totally bedridden with the Hong Kong flu and remember very little about the days before or after the big event. Well, folks, this weekend is your last opportunity, your last hurrah, your last chance to get out and get something that will really make a statement to your loved ones under that tree Christmas morning.

You are fortunate this year to have those two extra shopping days to find the perfect something for everyone on your list. If you still find yourself wandering around the mall corridors as Christmas Eve approaches, without so much as a clue as to what to get, my suggestion to you is feign the Hong Kong flu and hibernate until well after the first of the year, then shop the sales! Merry Christmas to all and to all a good night. And so goes another "Jingle from Pringle"—don't forget to call 395-6364.

Principal nominates Antioch Comm. High School leader

Dr. Susan Mullendore, principal of Antioch Community High School, announced the nomination of Jason Mondello, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Mondello of Lindenhurst, to compete in the national Principal's Leadership Award Scholarship Program. Mondello was selected for his participation in service organizations, clubs, and athletics, employment experience and academic record.

While at ACHS, Mondello participated in activities such as academic and math team, German club, National Honor Society, and also served as a tutor for two years.

Gwen Varney, Mondello's counselor, recommended him for this award. "Jason loves knowledge, but also loves to share knowledge. He is kind and concerned about his school and his peers."

Dr. Mullendore added, "He's an outstanding student and an outstanding person. He is self motivated, self-disciplined, and a dedicated student. Jason exemplifies the best in today's youth." One hundred and fifty national PLA winners will be chosen this spring to receive $1,000 college scholarships.

Holiday breakfast with Santa a success

The Women of the Moose College of Regents sponsored a breakfast with Santa on Sunday, Dec. 3. Many children were afraid to sit in Santa's lap and ran away crying, but the publicity chairman sat in his lap for a picture.

Dorothy Laursen's committee helping that morning were: Judy Gipson, Anne Byczek, Jeri Polson, Jeri Marks, Ruth Gussarsen, and chef Norma Lowe. Co-workers assisting with serving the breakfast were: Elaine Zeman, Vicki Schwanke, Kim Chaso, Mary Busch, Pam Turner, Diane Manders, Josephine Litwin, and Nancy Keisler.

The same afternoon the boy scout troop sponsored by the Loyal Order of the Moose held their Christmas dinner at the lodge. The leaders and scouts gathered together in uniform for pictures for the scrapbook of this year's events.

The first meeting of December was held on Dec. 7, with the meeting's entertainment and food handled by the Community Services committee chaired by the newly installed chairman, Donna Schneider (Diane Manders' daughter).

Co-workers Lorraine Gerloff, Gloria Carrick, Melody Kraph, and Pearl Roach served the sandwiches and bingo after the meeting and will also provided the snacks and entertainment for the Dec. 14 meeting.

Installed as new Women of the Moose members were Diane Lawrence, Florence Heiselman, Donna Schneider, Chris Moser, and Michelle Bailey.

Senior Regent Pat Serwa reminded all Moose members to make a note to attend the children's Christmas party on Sun., Dec. 17, and mentioned that the "Sunshine Child," the boy Mooseheart sponsors, will be coming to Antioch to attend the party.

New curriculum may not have outcome that works

NEAL TUCKER
Regional Editor

Imagine students in the classroom, peacefully coexisting on the same plane without competition or threat of failure. It is a placid scene. Then, when they turn 18, they are thrust into a cruel job climate contrary to everything they've known—a world that gives them just one chance to get it right or else.

The changing curriculum in the nation's schools has intensified the contrast between the comfortable confines of the classroom and the world of self-betterment for which the schools should be preparing students.

Outcome Based Education (OBE), though often not described in such terms by its supporters, has become a hot point for discussion in order to satisfy at least one question: when young students are eventually turned out into the workforce, are they prepared?

Not as much as they need to be is the resounding answer that comes from legislators, business organizations and business leaders, some of whom don't know the first thing about the changing curriculum in the schools.

Outcome Based Education is an educational philosophy that stresses parity among students, strives to remove the stress of the grading system and allows the students to continue with a problem until they master it. According to State Representative Al Salvi (R-Wauconda), students who have been through an educational system that features OBE techniques are not prepared for the workforce because in real life employees are not given unlimited chances to master a problem.

"If you think there is reason not to have consequences, then we are not asking any of our kids to excel," Salvi said.

Holly Rich, director of the Quincy-based pro-life, pro-family group called Neighbors Educating for Tomorrow, cautions against embracing OBE and programs such as the school to work initiative. School to work encourages students to determine a career while still in high school. Both Rich and Salvi say this concept defeats creativity and freedom of choice while giving the state and federal government socialist-like control of our lives.

"Basically, our children become wards of the state," Salvi said bluntly.

Rich illustrated the problem by talking about a man in her church who went to Chile to be a school administrator. Chile has a Marxist system that 'pigeonholes' workers into a solitary career. She said the people he met in that country were amazed he could go from teacher to administrator and all the while have the ability to perform electrical and plumbing work. It was a concept literally foreign to them.

Rich theorizes the introduction of school to work See OBE page B2

Two charged in Gurnee Mills gang shooting

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

An altercation between rival gang members is believed to be the cause of a shooting incident at Gurnee Mills.

Jeremy Urbanik, age 18, of Wadsworth, was transported by Gurnee Fire Department personnel to an area hospital after suffering a gunshot wound. His injury is not believed to be life threatening, according to police.

The suspect shooter has been identified as Rogelio Montoya, age 17, from Waukegan. He has been charged with aggravated battery with a firearm, aggravated discharge of a firearm, and unlawful use of a weapon. The weapon, believed to be a .25 automatic, had not been recovered.

A second suspect, Issac Zurita, age 18, of Waukegan, was later charged. He faces counts of aggravated battery with a firearm, aggravated discharge of a firearm and unlawful use of a weapon. He had a .25 caliber pistol. He also has a $1 million bond.

Two other individuals were questioned by police. One is a juvenile. The other was released.

The incident took place about 9:22 p.m.

Dec. 13 in front of a Gurnee Mills entrance.

The Waukegan Police Anti-Gang Unit was immediately called in to assist the investigation.

"The gang unit was invaluable. We called them because we felt they could help identify the gang members and they did," Gurnee police investigator Jay Patrick said.

"The incident is the first real gang violence one we (Gurnee) have had at Gurnee Mills. It is the first real one outside of Six Flags Great America and that one was a couple of years ago," Patrick said.

Gurnee police praised the role of Gurnee Mills security. Gurnee police have a substation staffed at the four-year-old mall.

The area of the shooting was cleared by midnight.

Volunteer's hobby is comforting to A Safe Place

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Children staying with mothers at A Safe Place in Waukegan are a little more comfortable these days.

Elizabeth Mini donated 20 handmade quilts to the agency which houses persons who are victims of domestic abuse.

"They took a week. We had an assembly line with some friends," Mini said.

One of those friends-helpers, Joan Reinhardt of Gurnee, donated the material for the quilts.

Lake County Sheriff's Department coordinated the donation between Mini and A Safe Place.

"Knowing some children have a more comfortable night," Mini said is her reward.

Mini is an award-winning quilter and designer, something she describes as a "serious hobby" for 20 years. She has seen the interest in quilting grow in the last two decades.

Mini, who speaks fluent English, French, Spanish and Italian, is often called upon to translate for Lake County Health Department clinics and St. Therese Medical Center. She has also volunteered her services for Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, St. Therese Medical Center, St. Patrick's Church in Wadsworth and Mothers Against Gangs.

"The translation is especially needed in Waukegan, with its large Hispanic population," Mini, a native of Honduras, said.

A hand-stitched quilt of hers is on display at the Lake County Museum. Mini was a leader in the move to register quilts in a pilot program for Lake County.

"The quilts will be put to good use," Gary Del Re, Lake County undersheriff, said.

Phyllis DeMott, A Safe Place director, said the agency's home has 30 beds, with two-thirds filled by children.

"They leave everything behind which is comfortable to them. We would not be able to do the work we do without the support of the community," DeMott said.

The agency offers counseling and a place to stay, as home-like as possible. Clients in the six-week program must do chores around the house. There is also a children's play area and places where children can talk about what happened at home.

Children from under one to 17 years old are at the home with their mothers.

The agency has been in existence for 15 years. Staff provides counseling, temporary shelter, and assists clients in finding gainful employment.

"Lake County has done a good job in coordination. The community support we get is just phenomenal," she said.

For example, the Gurnee Noon Exchange Club just donated $700 in proceeds made at a community event.

programs will give the government easier access to controlling the career destinies of the general population. She says Illinois State Superintendent Joseph Spagnolo wants to move away from school core subjects and replace them with Certificates of Mastery. No certificate? No job. The government controls lives.

Rich's theory may not be too far-fetched. The measure has already been proposed and defeated as law in the state of Oregon.

Another problem, according to word on the street in Lake County, is the graduation rate. Hovering in the vicinity of 80 percent, that number still means roughly 20 out of 100 students still do not graduate from high school. The ears on the street in the Lake County business scene come in the form of Lake County Chamber of Commerce Executive Director Charles Isley III. Isley said the employment demand is growing rapidly in the county and secondary education is not keeping up by keeping students in school, whatever the reason.

The quality of those who complete school is suitable, but there is just not enough of them," said Isley. "They need to get more people to stay in school."

In addition, Isley said those coming out of school have an unrealistic expectation of where their starting level should be. As Isley understands it, many young people out of high school have little desire to begin at a starting level job that includes a starting level wage.

"Most people want a position versus a job. If they want a place of employment, I can almost guarantee they'll get a job," Isley said.

Where the schools appear to have failed some students, the Lake County Private Industry Council (PIC) seems to be having some success through, ironically, another government-sponsored program.

'If you think there is reason not to have consequences, then we are not asking any of our kids to excel.'

— Al Salvi,
state representative,
Dist. 52

PIC Training Institute is a Department of Labor funded program which trains 18 to 22-year-old people who have low incomes and have dropped out of school. According to PIC Director Chris Stevens, students come in testing at a fourth- to fifth-grade level and emerge after just 20 hours of training with four to five grade level gains.

The program also concentrates on work readiness skills others may take for granted such as learning about job opportunities, interpreting labor market information, importance of good attendance on the job and learning to follow instruction on the job.

Stevens credits the computer-based style of instruction for getting results the schools could not.

"We're doing a lot of one-on-one, labor-intensive problem solving. We're trying to teach coping skills so they can act appropriately when a problem arises," Stevens said.

North Chicago schools get grant

North Chicago Unit Dist. 187 schools will receive up to $200,000 next spring from the Illinois Dept. of Education for classroom-based on-line curriculum projects. The money will be used to expand the district's participation in the I-NET Consortium, an educational wide-area-network linking North Chicago schools with public and private schools in Lake Forest and Lake Bluff. The network is connected by US Cable, which has its northern terminus in North Chicago.

Last spring, North Chicago Community High School and A.J. Katzenmaier and Novak-King Middle Schools received $72,000 in grant money to cover the hookup costs for I-NET. Now they, and the six North Chicago K-5 schools, will get $5,000 to purchase a digital camera, a color scanner and a Macintosh computer with networking software, plus teacher training.

The K-5 school buildings will also get supplemental grants of up to $25,000 per school to pay for cable hookups and other wiring required for I-NET. The specific amount for each building will be negotiated in coming weeks. Grant recipients will match the funds by equipping a second classroom with computers dedicated to interactive, on-line curriculum projects.

I-NET provides electronic mail access among Consortium members, File Transfer Protocol (FTP) allowing users to transfer files of data, programs, pictures and text; Gopher (software created to carry out searches of computerized databases or resources); and World Wide Web (user-friendly access to people, resources and databases on the Web).

I-NET's coaxial cable backbone provides much faster network speed than networks based on telephone lines. It also costs less, with no monthly fees for I-NET usage and Consortium members sharing the cost of an Internet connection.

The Consortium project is regarded in Springfield as a model for educational on-line technology. Last month, State Superintendent of Education Joseph Spagnolo and Cheryl Lemke, deputy for State of Illinois Learning Technologies, visited Lake Forest's Deer Path Middle School to see I-NET in action. They were impressed with the program's potential for enhancing instruction in the sciences and other subject areas.

North Chicago students will not be using "the Web" until new policies are in place. A Technology Planning Committee is developing recommendations for the policies and procedures, which will ensure accountability and control over student use of the World Wide Web and other I-NET features. The Board of Education is expected to review and act on the recommendations next spring.

As one I-NET Consortium member said at the meeting in Lake Forest, "Internet tears down the classroom walls and puts students and teachers in touch with the world. That's good in many ways, but you need appropriate controls to keep students from straying into the wrong neighborhood."

The Business Education wing at North Chicago Community High School now features a new lab devoted to advanced training in business systems. Twenty-five Dell 486 computers, equipped with Microsoft Office, Word for Windows, Excel spreadsheet software, and Access database software, were up and running in November.

Money for the computers came from a Perkins grant obtained by business teacher Robert Stebbins last spring. The school district provided the money needed for new desks, software and cabling.

Once appropriate policies and controls are in place, the new lab will also be tied into I-NET, giving users access to a wide variety of research databases and other resources.

AT A GLANCE

Twp. meets drug testing regs

ANTIOCH—One strike and you are out is the new drug and alcohol testing policy for Antioch Township employees who operate heavy equipment. Highway Commissioner Mark Ring said the township highway department as well as all other Lake County township highway departments will be complying with the new federal commercial driver's license drug and alcohol testing program. By joining the Mid-West Truckers Association, the seven Antioch township employees with commercial driver's licenses will be subject to yearly and random drug testing. The Mid-West Trucking Association will test half of its 50,000 members a year. Anyone testing positive for drugs or alcohol on the first attempt will be terminated immediately, Ring stressed. New federal requirements are mandating the drug and alcohol policy, Ring said. It costs the township approximately $60 per person a year to become a member of Mid-West Trucking Association and to comply with the federal mandate.

Village opens new post office

VERNON HILLS—Santa Claus found his way to Vernon Hills a little earlier this year as village officials unwrapped a village-wide Christmas gift. A number of Vernon Hills dignitaries, Mundelein-Vernon Hills Postmaster Mary Cardwell, and others were on hand to snip the ceremonious ribbon marking the official opening of the new U.S. Post Office in Vernon Hills. The 19,000 square-foot facility has been operational since October. The Vernon Hills Post Office features the first "postal store" where patrons can shop for stamps and packages. After five years of negotiations, the village was able to get top priority from the federal government when the village donated the land worth $675,000 to the U.S. Post Office to build the facility. Vernon Hills residents and businesses formerly conducted their mail business at the Mundelein Post Office.

Robber hits pizza parlor

FOX LAKE—A man looking like a walking mummy brandished a gun at Little Caesar's Pizza on Grand Avenue and Route 12 in Fox Lake, demanding an employee give him cash. He left on foot with $200 from the store. Fox Lake Police received a call at 11:48 p.m. about the armed robbery in the Fox Lake Commons. When police arrived, store employee Rick Lunkenheimer of McHenry showed a hand printed note to police which said the robber demanded the cash. He also gave a description explaining the man's appearance which included a cloth bandage wrapped around his head, hiding his mouth and nose. Police found some clothing fitting the description of the robber, behind the store in an alley. The man was around 5 foot, 10 inches tall, between 150 and 170 pounds, wearing a brown jacket, blue jeans and gloves. Police are currently investigating.

Hit and run suspect sought

ROUND LAKE BEACH—Police are looking for the owner of a blue Ford Aerostar van that struck and killed 16-year-old Nathan Cozza of Round Lake Beach on Dec. 13. The van is believed to be of the 1986 to 1991 model year. Police are asking for any information which may be useful in the case including information on individuals who drive a van matching the description or who are having repairs made. Call 270-9111 with information.

Village keeps low water rates

LINDENHURST—Lindenhurst trustees won't raise water and sewer rates for the sixth consecutive year in 1996. Lindenhurst has the second lowest water rate in Lake County, according to Lindenhurst officials. Trustees credited high tap on fees for new users, and a good water supply with keeping the rates low.

Route 45 facelift is presented

GRAYSLAKE—Four travel lanes and an median barrier are among the proposed improvements for Route 45, from Route 176 to Route 132. The plans were presented by the Illinois Department of Transportation (IDOT) in a public meeting at the Lake County Fairgrounds. When finished, there will be four travel lanes, and an 18-30 foot wide, median barrier, to separate north and south bound traffic. In order to provide land for the road widening, several permanent right-of-way easements are proposed along property fronting the road. According to IDOT, the project should last two construction seasons. One lane of traffic in each direction will be kept open at all times. No time frame has been established for construction. Approval of the project is expected in the spring.

Store clerk arrested by police

LAKE ZURICH—A clerk at a liquor store was arrested for selling beer to an underage minor. Thomas C. Cohen, 30, of Wauconda, an employee of B & L Liquors, 20 E. Main St., was charged with unlawful sale of alcohol to a minor, after a youth driving a car stopped by a police officer said he was not carded at the store, police said. The three youths, ages 17 through 19 from Barrington and Barrington Hills, were arrested and charged with multiple state alcohol and drug charges. The clerk faces a Jan. 23 court hearing in Grayslake, while the minors will appear in Waukegan Jan. 13.

Police urge safety first

WAUCONDA—With holiday parties happening now through the New Year, police officials are encouraging all to have a safe and happy holiday. While the number of drinking and driving accidents have decreased in some respects around the holidays, they have not decreased altogether, said Andrew W. Mayer, Wauconda police chief. "We have seen a significant decrease in alcohol related accidents over New Years," said Andrew C. Mayer, Wauconda police chief. But the same cannot be said for Christmas Eve, Christmas Day, or the days leading up to the holiday when offices hold company gatherings, he said. If individuals at parties are going to drink, they should make travel plans ahead of time and make sure that one person in the vehicle will not be drinking alcohol and will be the designated driver, Mayer said.

TIF brings more opposition

MUNDELEIN—The Village Board has approved a resolution stating their opposition to a tax increment financing (TIF) district in neighboring Round Lake Park. The resulting tax freeze would impact Fremont School and Mundelein High School. Similar objections to the plan have been put on record by Fremont Township and the Village of Grayslake. Round Lake Park is expected to vote on the matter before the end of the year.

Board wants Rte. 120 free

GURNEE—Gurnee Village Board members would like to see Route 120 stay the way it is. Trustees adopted a resolution which calls on the Illinois State Toll Authority to keep existing Ill. State Route 120 a freeway between Grayslake and Waukegan. The toll authority is considering designs for an extension of Route 53 to I-94. "Even though the existing portion of Ill. Route 120 must be upgraded to serve the function of a limited access highway connecting the new tollway to I-94 safely and efficiently, a need exists to continue to serve the long established travel patterns of those communities whose residents have come to rely upon the free travel along Route 120 corridor. The Village of Gurnee (board) wishes to see said new Ill. Route 53 Tollway incorporate an upgraded Illinois Route 120 to serve the needs of providing a connection to Interstate 94 for regional traffic while retaining the existing free travel between U.S. Route 45 and the Interstate 94 in the Ill. Route 120 corridor," the resolution states.

Arrested for forgery

LIBERTYVILLE—Gloria J. Dunbar, 26, of 1711 Golf Road, Apt. 201, Waukegan, was arrested for forgery, and theft by deception on Dec. 18, both charges are felonies. Dunbar claims she found a wallet that was reported stolen from a purse, Nov. 29, at the office of Cambridge Homes, 800 S. Milwaukee. Dunbar apparently used the identity of the victim, to open several charge and checking accounts. She then proceeded to rake up over $5,000 worth of bills, including a $3,000 furniture purchase from Leath Furniture in Gurnee. In addition she purchased several gift certificates, from over a dozen stores, according to police. Dunbar was discovered when she wrote a bad check for $342, at Napa Auto Parts, in Libertyville. She was released on $25,000 recognizance bond and has a status hearing in January. The victim is an employee of Cambridge, as is Dunbar.

Teen hits car, goes wrong way

INGLESIDE—Lake County Sheriff's deputies are trying to find reasons why a McHenry teenager was driving in the wrong lane, prior to striking another vehicle head on. Amy Karner, 17, was reportedly heading northbound in the southbound lane of Route 12 when she collided with Fox Lake resident Linnea Pioro, 45, around 2:30 p.m. Dec. 14. Pioro is a Fox Lake Chamber of Commerce member and coordinator of the Fox Lake area Camp Fire Boys and Girls. Pioro is in fair condition at Lutheran General Hospital in Park Ridge as of Monday, and Karner is in stable condition at Northern Illinois Medical Center in McHenry as of Monday. Chief Lt. Stan Iwan of the Lake County Sheriff's Department said no charges have been issued, pending an ongoing investigation of the accident.

County Board appoints Aho chair of EDC

Lake County Board members appointed David J. Aho as chairman of the Economic Development Commission.

Aho is corporate vice president for strategy, business development and governmental affairs at Baxter International Inc.

The Economic Development Commission (EDC) advises the County Board on issues affecting the county's economic vitality. The commission works proactively to enhance and sustain the economic strength of the county by direct action, and also by serving as a catalyst for other agencies. The EDC offers the following resources: Demographic information; customized research; financing; site and building searches; and placement and training.

"Having David Aho at the helm of our Economic Development Commission is a real plus for the people of Lake County," said Chairman of the Board Robert Depke. "I've known him for many years and have watched him excel in his career. He's done a great job for Baxter."

Aho was named to his current position at Baxter in 1993. In addition, he was appointed by the board of directors as chairman of the company's corporate responsibility office, which oversees corporate-wide business practices and ethics. He is responsible for strategic planning and new business, and also analyzes and manages legislative and regulatory issues affecting Baxter and the healthcare industry.

Aho said he is looking forward to serving his two-year term as EDC chairman. "Lake County has so much to offer in attracting development that is both global in scope, yet compatible with the lifestyle that we have grown to enjoy. Promising developments in areas such as biotechnology and information highway technologies already have a solid base in our county, and can be developed further with appropriate planning and investment."

Born in Waukegan, Aho has lived in Lake County most of his life. He holds a bachelor's degree from Northwestern University and juris doctorate/L.L.M. from John Marshall Law School in Chicago.

Aho replaces Harry Pettengill as chairman. Pettengill retired this summer from Abbott Laboratories, where he was corporate facilities planning manager. The EDC is comprised of 40 members appointed by the Lake County Board. Regular meetings are at 8 a.m. the second Wednesday of each month at Raffaelli's Italian Cafe, Libertyville. For more information, call 360-6350.

United Way of Lake County tops $7M mark for 2nd year

United Way of Lake County has raised more than $7 million for the second consecutive year, and has achieved its 1995 campaign goal. A total of $7,350,000 has been raised to date. This is a 4 percent increase over the 1994 campaign.

"We are very pleased with the results of the 1995 campaign," said Patrick J. Allin, general campaign chairman. "Though we have successfully met our goal, it is important to stress that the needs of our community are continually rising. Every single dollar pledged does make a difference. We still need to raise additional dollars to fund local programs and services, and we are counting on those who have not made a contribution to please do so yet this year."

Funds raised during the campaign are used to support local community services, including 102 programs offered through 48 health and human service agencies in Lake County. To make a donation to United Way of Lake County, call 816-0063 or send it to 2020 O'Plaine Rd., Green Oaks, IL 60048.

Seeking the King

Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod the king, behold, wise men from the East came to Jerusalem, saying, "Where is he who has been born king of the Jews? For we have seen his star in the East, and have come to worship him."

The Gospel According to Matthew,
Revised Standard Version

When Christmas isn't Christmas

As with a great many federal mandates, ambiguity abounds. So it is with a U.S. Dept. of Education directive that schools may not observe holidays as religious events or promote such observance by students. In issuing the directive, the federal agency was bowing to popular "touchy, feely" thinking and the wave of political correctness that has swept the land.

Rather than institute a ban on Christmas, most schools are choosing to deal with the Yule season as a teaching-learning experience, making sure students understand that Christmas is an observance of Christians, one of the major religions of the world. With that perspective, Christmas still remains a part of student life this time of year.

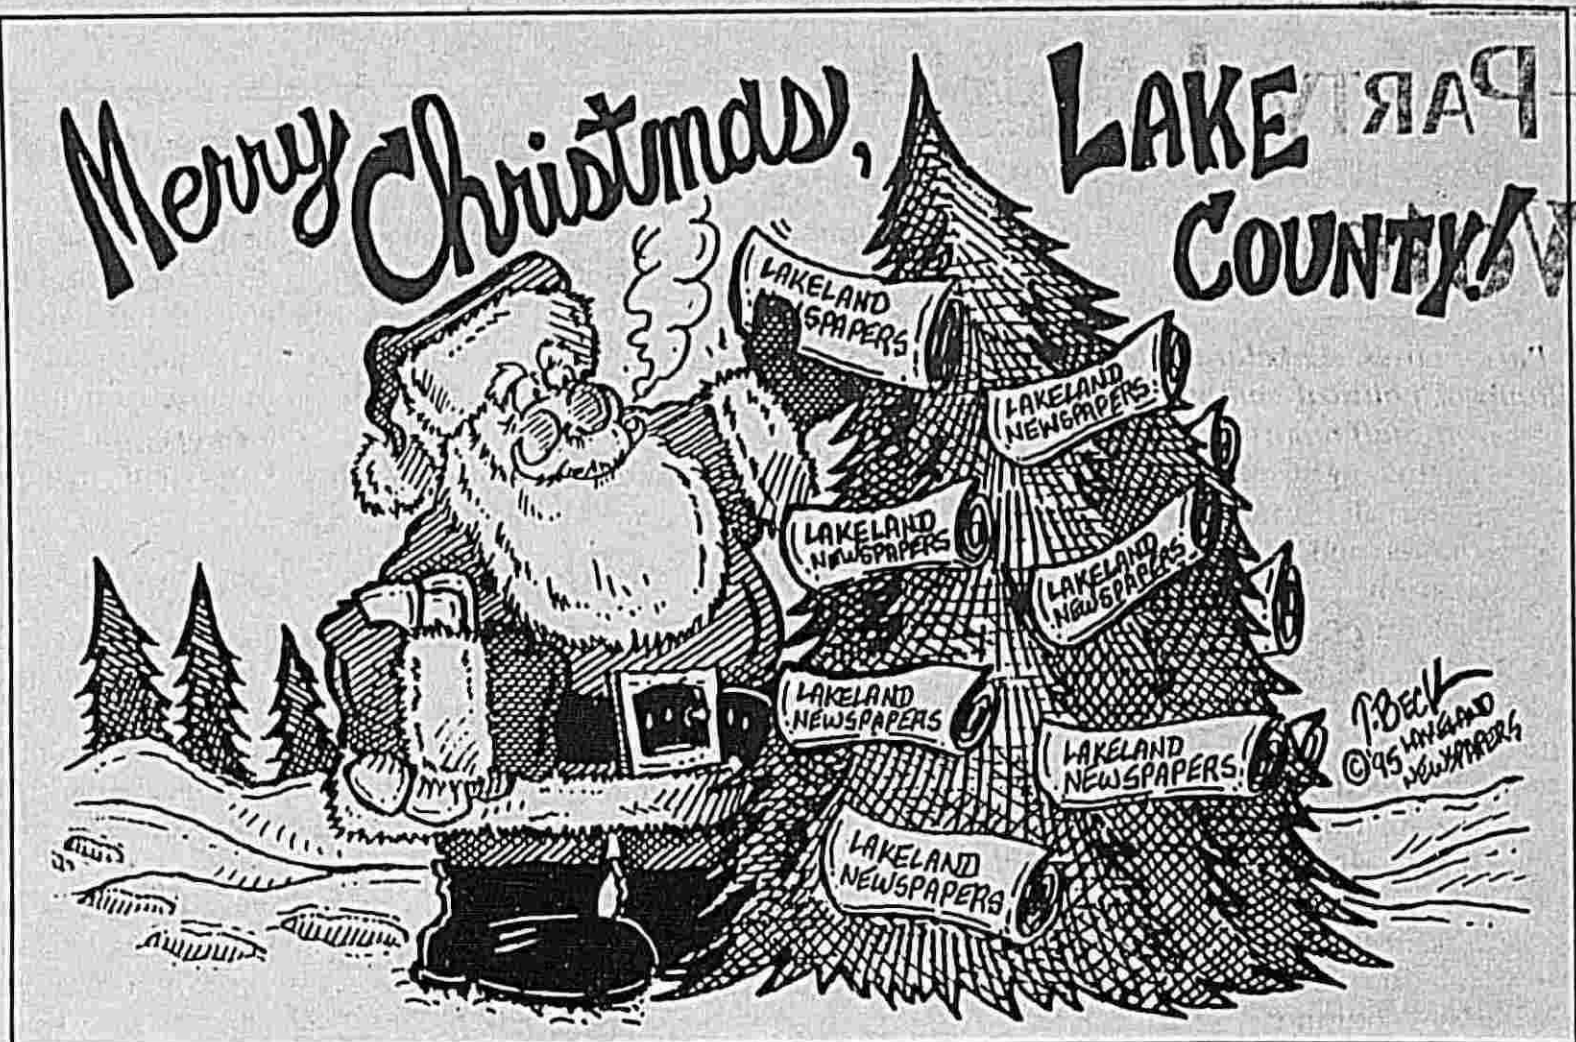

Grayslake Elementary School Dist. 46 chose to follow the letter of the directive, announcing early in the school year that Christmas would be replaced with a "winter carnival." Instead of a Christmas tree, the school has a plastic "giving tree." The traditional Christmas concert in December has been rescheduled to January.

Initial complaints and grumbling about the district going "PC happy" have been replaced by a full-blown protest from a group of parents that the ban on Christmas amounts to censorship. Several Jewish families have accused the district of depriving their children of a well-rounded education.

Supt. Joan Hochschild is doing her best to diffuse parental dissatisfaction, calling adverse reaction to new rules as "differences of perception" and the result of miscommunication. She said recognizable and traditional religious and cultural symbols of Christmas are in evidence through district buildings.

Parents are well within their rights raising a howl about the Christmas ban. Considering the Washington bureaucratic mindset, the Christmas ban may be the intended way to comply with the intent of the federal regulation, but Grayslake school officials stumbled badly by not taking advantage of the broad interpretations allowed in the letter of the law by the federal guidelines.

Wait until Valentine's Day rolls around. The district has renamed it "Friendship Day." Ugh!

Worse—and counting!

Editor:

The County Board approved spending $104,300 for the design of a new logo. The current logo depicts an industrial town, presumably Waukegan, a ribbon stating "Lake County 1839," a rifle, which at the time may have signified Fort Sheridan or possibly open space and hunting, and a tomahawk, which could only belong to early Indian tribes.

Now comes my dilemma. How do I change the logo to reflect Lake County 1995? The industrial town could easily be changed to a shopping mall. Those nasty, industrial smoke stacks that spewed out $15 an hour jobs are gone and replaced by minimum wage clerk positions. As for the rifle, that's easy—since Fort Sheridan and open space no longer exist, we can replace that with a revolver to signify the increase in crime. The tomahawk must have been a mistake, because we had stole all of the Indians' land by 1839 and sent them off to reservations.

Our new logo will surely picture a road grader, bulldozer, blacktop truck, over-crowded schools, high taxes, carbon monoxide, gridlock, and above all, Rte. 53 running through the middle of a housing development. I may be reflecting too much of the picture to put on a small logo, however, I'm sure for $104,300 the design firm will manage.

And what about the reams of paper with the old logo on it? Will the county offices consider donating this to the schools in an effort to recycle, or will they just put it in the landfill?

Oh! And on the ribbon maybe we can consider the statement AND GETTING WORSE!

Are there any taxpayers in this county who know or care what the logo looks like?

Taxpayer fleecing

Editor:

How can there be any hope for the taxpayers of Lake County when our Lake County Board votes to spend $104,000 on a new county logo? Any senior art or design student could design one on their lunch napkin that would be better than the current seal.

We ask why, in their collective wisdom, the board chose not to have the high school or college students of Lake County compete to design a new county logo with the prize being the honor of having done so and perhaps a $10,000 contribution to the winning school's art department. No! They would rather send $104,000 to a Chicago design studio so they can feel good about having made a high priced, high See LETTERS page B5

VIEWPOINT

Christmas trees live short, useful lives

BILL SCHROEDER

Publisher

Until talking to Richard Rosko, I used to harbor guilt feelings about all the unsold Christmas trees that go to waste. The supply always exceeds the demand.

Rich and his partner, Tim Broderick, who operate Lake County's largest Christmas tree business, selling 5,000 trees at retail and wholesale this year, assured that there is an extended life or a use for the trees that don't find their way into homes for the Yule season.

Sportsmen treasure unsold Christmas trees for hunting blinds or fish life spawning grounds protection. Bird lovers like to hang suet from tree branches after the holidays. Landscapers consider Christmas trees one of their best sources of garden mulch.

And to make sure their lots are empty a day or so before Christmas Eve, Rich and Tim will play Santa themselves and give away the stragglers. "Why, not?" asserts Rosko, a burly, bewhiskered extrovert who also operates a thriving coffee service and vending business. "After all, it's Christmas, isn't it?"

Rosko and Broderick, an electrician, are Lindenhurst neighbors who started selling Christmas trees almost by chance a few years ago. After a couple of fairly successful seasons, they hit upon the idea of growing their own. So the Great Christmas Trees plantation—don't call it a farm—came into being on 40 acres in central Wisconsin. This year they sold 1,000 homegrown trees and purchased the rest from farms in Michigan and the Carolinas.

Guess again if you think all there's to growing a Christmas tree is sticking a seedling in the ground and coming back seven or eight years for cutting.

"It's a year-around business," exclaimed Rosko, who said there is considerable risk involved. Because of the 1995 drought, the partners lost 5,500 seedlings purchased at about 50 cents each.

Now that this year's two-month selling cycle is over, Rosko and Broderick next will engage in culling work on their land which supports about 25,000 trees. In May they'll plant replacement seedlings. Most popular Christmas tree varieties grow about a foot a year. June is the shearing season to insure desired shapes where Mother Nature falls short.

Rosko and Broderick cut as late as possible to insure freshness, but that requires painting each tree selected. "You can't have it both ways. Early cutting to maintain color results in dry needles. We cut trees in early November that naturally turn brownish or kind of yellow in fall so we paint."

Then the heavy duty work begins, hand dragging each tree to a shaking machine that removes loose needles, wind-born debris and bird nests. Three persons are required to bale the trees for shipment to waiting families. Industry standard for bringing a tree to market is approximately $15, according to Rosko, so lot prices of $25 to $40 for premium trees are required to insure a profit.

Karen Rosko and Nancy Broderick help their husbands manage sales lots at Jerry's Parkway, Fox Lake; Eagle Foods, Lindenhurst; Piggly Wiggly, Zion; Sam's Club, Gurnee, and a spot in McHenry. They supply trees wholesale for lots in Round Lake, Antioch and Grayslake.

Christmas trees never get lonesome during short lives that produce so much happiness.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY—The stockings are all hung, tra la. Mom and pop are as ready for the holidays as they're going to be. Come on home, kids. Here's hoping your holidays will be joyous and meaningful. Merry Christmas!

Bill Schroeder offers editorial commentary every Tuesday on Lake County Live presented by STAR Channel 3/U.S. Cable at 5:30 and 7:30 p.m.

PARTY LINES

Voters are making a list, checking it twice

Party Lines, Lakeland Newspapers' column of political commentary, is prepared from staff reports.

'Twas the night before the primary election and all through the county, not a politician was sleeping except for Chairman Bob Depke.

The votes were being counted by election judges with care in hopes that party favorites would still be there.

And, Al Salvi and his family and Bob Kustra and his party were nestled in for a long night of counting.

When the voters spoke out with a such a resounding clatter, that party leaders sprang from their celebrations to see what was the matter. But, what on the screens did appear but upsets and new faces to cheer.

With a new platform, so fresh and true, they knew in a moment they had much to lose. They ran to include the winners in their inner circles and whistled and shouted and called them by name.

Now, Al, now, Mike, now Alberta and Suzi. Now Bonnie, now Larry, now Terry and Ray, to the party headquarters, to the backroom, you must go.

Comprise, comprise and know to whom you must bow. Happy campaigning to all and to all a good year.

Thoughts on growth—Lake County Chairman Robert Depke put Lake County's growth issue in a different perspective. After a survey of 20 county board members, it was learned that the 20 members polled had 121 children and grandchildren. "Growth is coming from within (Lake County)," Depke noted. "If you want your children and grandchildren to live and work by you, I presume they're all going to need a home."

County Board member Larry Leafblad of Highland Lake brought the house down in laughter when he added, "There's a reason for that: The human species is the only species that allows its offspring to return to the home without eating them."

Welcome back: Gurnee trustee Robert Amaden returned to the village board for Monday's meeting. Amaden, 82, had been recuperating at home from an illness.

Christmas bash—The County Clerk's office held their Christmas gathering Tuesday evening, Dec. 19, with appetizers and a cash bar at the Parkway Restaurant. In the past, employees have had a pot luck. This year, Chief Deputy Martin Paulson, owner of Parkway, played host. Was it generosity or a case of "double dipping?"

New faces—Several candidates made last minute filings Monday to place themselves on the primary ballot for the county board. Among them: Bonnie Thomson Carter challenging Ed Fojtik for Dist. 5;

Al Westerman challenging Chairman Bob Depke in Dist. 3; Sandy Cole is making it a three-way race for incumbent Dick Raffis seat in Dist. 11. Ray La Croix is also running. Terry Weppeler will challenge John Schullen for Dist. 13; Republican Deloris Axelrod will challenge Democrat Carol Spielman for Dist. 22 and GOP candidate Martin D. Jantzen is seeking Democratic incumbent Bob Buhal's seat in Dist. 23. Democratic challenger Dennis Murphy will face Robert Boness in Dist. 6. Three Republicans are seeking the seat as well including incumbent Larry Leafblad. Angelo Kyle faces a Democratic primary challenge from Eddie Washington for Dist. 12. Walter White and former Democrat Christopher Wakefield are vying for the GOP slot.

Show of support—Senatorial candidate Al Salvi received back to back awards for "1995 Illinois Legislator of the Year" from the Illinois Christian Coalition and Buhal American News and Views. He also received the 1995 Legislator of the Year award from the Illinois Christian Coalition. Salvi collected more than 35,000 petitions from around the state as a show of support for his senatorial bid.

Austerity program: In an on-going attempt to trim the budget, Warren Township has decided that trustees should pay for their own dinners at Township Officials of Illinois conventions.

A time for giving—Wauconda Township Supervisor James P. Keagle coordinates the office's holiday basket program, which this year will help 25 needy families have a happy holiday. The baskets are filled with Christmas dinners and extra food items by individuals and other organizations. Keagle also found Christmas trees for three families from Roberts Road Baptist Church, and got some toys from the Wauconda American Legion Toys for Tots campaign. "We have been very fortunate here," Keagle said.

Christmas spirit: Gurnee Mayor Richard Welton distributed calculators to many of those in attendance at Monday's village board meeting. And they had batteries included.

Out of bounds?—More than a few Republicans are grumbling that Charlene Beyer, Avon Township GOP chair, is overstepping her bounds getting involved in the three-way race for a County Board nomination from Dist. 6.

Beyer, who also is mayor of Round Lake Park, reportedly encouraged Atty. Pat McCloskey of Grayslake to challenge incumbent Rep. Larry Leafblad (R-Highland Lake). Maybe so. The third man in the race, Bob Powers, says he decided on his own. Party leaders bypassed Leafblad to endorse McCloskey. Powers skipped the interviews with GOP power brokers.

Say what?—A certain Chicago newspaper (the big one) is fond of referring to Lake County Republican office holders who express independence as "maveriks." Does that mean the paper doesn't like politicians who think for themselves?

Brighter day—Gurnee Police Chief Robert Jones ordered officers to drive their squads Friday with headlights on to focus on a campaign to reduce drunk driving. Jones regards the holiday season as one of the busiest for drivers who take to the highway impaired by alcohol.

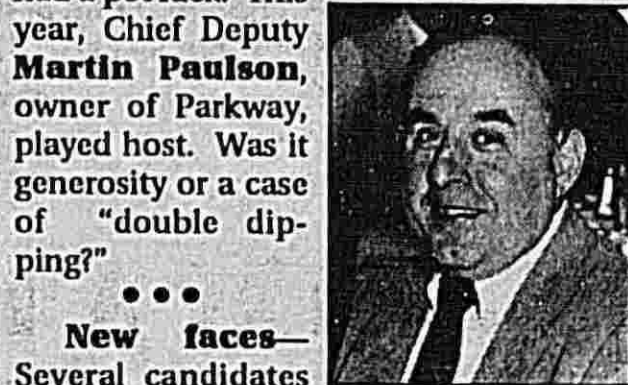

Expanded list—Cook County Circuit Clerk Aurella Pucinski expanded her Christmas card list this year. Does that mean she's seeking greener political pastures? Old-time pols say the card list is a dead giveaway of future things to come.

Wobbly blow—In a somewhat feeble gesture for economy, three independent Republicans on the Lake County Board cast the only no votes against a $104,000 expenditure to create a new county seal. The trio, Larry Leafblad, Diana O'Kelly, and Judy Martini, said the job could have been done cheaper. Nineteen representatives felt the bid submitted by Grady, Campbell Inc., was in line.

Mixed sentiments—Fourteen members of the Lake County Board are tempering holiday festivities with really important things like campaigning. They're up for reelection next year. Lame-duck Bob Neal and Mark Beaubien are seeking other offices.

Snowmobile limits

Editor:

The International Snowmobile Assn. has designated Dec. 10 through 16 as Snowmobile Safety Week. Snowmobile clubs throughout Lake County and the State of Illinois have been conducting safety education classes, and more are being scheduled, in conjunction with the Illinois Dept. of National Resources. These classes are open, not only for children ages 12 to 16 to get their certificates to operate a snowmobile legally, but also for adults who are more than welcome and are encouraged to attend. If interested, contact your local snowmobile dealer for the next class.

In addition, member clubs of the Northeastern Illinois Assn. of Snowmobile Clubs are out marking and preparing trails for this winter. Please respect the landowners and stay on the marked trails, or these trails may not be available next year. Ride responsibly and do not ride in areas unless you have permission. An open field, a front yard or a park district playing field may have fresh snow, but it may be illegal to ride snowmobiles there. Also, respect your neighbors and other users of the trail regarding speed, noise and courtesy.

Know the limits of your abilities, your snowmobile, the trail and of your speed on the trail. Stay within the limits. Join a local club to become involved. Snowmobile with safety and respect in mind and let's all have a safe, enjoyable snowmobile season.

Kids 'better' with diversity

Editor:

As an interfaith family residing in Grayslake and Dist. 46, we would like to commend both Dr. Hochschild and the Dist. 46 Board for recognizing the diversity of the community and for helping to make our schools a "safe" and accepting place for children whose religious and cultural backgrounds have traditionally been ignored or at the very least overlooked.

While it is true that we live in a country where "majority" rules we also live in a country that has from its very beginnings accepted and embraced individuals from every country in the world. We are proud to be part of a country that celebrates individual differences and which still opens its doors to the "oppressed and downtrodden." That said, we are saddened by the recent response many members of the Grayslake community have had to the district's holiday policy which was adopted last spring.

While we do not have the exact cultural and religious demographics of the Grayslake community, we know that on our street alone we are Jewish, Catholic, Buddhist and Protestant.

Our schools are simply not the place for celebrations and rituals which are specific to a set of religious and cultural beliefs.

We are in no way suggesting that children who do not celebrate Christmas, for instance, will in any way be harmed by coloring a picture of Santa or singing about Rudolph (all of which are secular references to Christmas, and to our understanding have nothing to do with the real reason for the season), these traditions do however, serve to point out our children's difference in a way that is not celebratory of diversity but instead exclusionary.

We should not be placing our children in the position of having to defend their religious beliefs in an otherwise non-religious environment.

There is no simple solution in a world, country and community with such ethnic, cultural and religious diversity. However, we do know that a "majority" rules mentality fosters both intolerance and bigotry. Dist. 46 has the right idea, let's celebrate the winter and spring solstices, as the majority of religions and cultures do recognize the passing of seasons as significant and let's not go back to arbitrarily picking and choosing which celebrations are relevant and meaningful.

We would like to thank Dist. 46 for their efforts in this regard, our children will be better off for having attended schools which are both inclusionary and safe.

Legend of Santa Claus based on real bishop

Santa Claus as we know him today is actually a composite of several European traditions along with an evolution of American ideas.

People may be surprised to learn the roots of Santa Claus can be traced to a man who actually existed. St. Nicholas was the bishop of Myra in Asia Minor in the fourth century.

Known for his kindness and generosity, his reputation gave rise to legends that superseded the actual man. The legends grew to miracle status.

He is credited for giving bags of gold to three sisters for a dowry, saving them from a life of servitude. He is also credited for restoring the lives of three young people who were horribly butchered.

He became known the patron and the guardian of children. People began celebrating a day in his honor, the Feast of St. Nicholas, which became a major ecclesiastical event of the season.

In the United States, early settlers resisted the celebration of the season with secular tradition, but puritan restraints eventually gave way to the German holiday spirit of the season. Early Dutch settlers coming to new Amsterdam first introduced the idea of Santa Claus.

Americans quickly associated the day of feasting on Dec. 6 and Santa with Christmas and blended the two. Sinter Klaas became Santa Claus. His appearance also changed over the years.

The Dutch Santa was more of a colorful medieval bishop with a red miter on his head and red cope hanging from his shoulders. The garments became a red suit and, instead of a serious mien of a bishop, the American Santa became a fat and jovial man bearing gifts.—by NEAL TUCKER

Once again, Santa Claus comes to town

A strange thing happens each year when the air turns cold, the ground turns white and the spirit of the holiday season can be felt in the air.

Men all over the county—some young, some old, some slim, some not—are seen in public places dramatically transformed from their true selves. Their bellies have grown to round paunches, as though they are filled with jelly and their facial hair has grown overnight into flowing white tresses.

When they go to dress, their closets are stuffed with nothing but red velvet suits with fluffy white trim while black boots line the floor. When they leave their homes, they discover their four-wheel mode of transportation has been transformed into 32 hooves. A ride in the sleigh can be chilly, but the beard and extra insulation around the middle helps keep them warm.

Another day on the job is something these individuals anticipate with enthusiasm. They'll be seeing dozens, if not hundreds of children, while spreading holiday cheer. Each year, they hope they don't have to begrudgingly include lumps of coal in the back of the sleigh.

Sure. It's a rough job, but parents and children alike hope someone wants to do it.

Fortunately, there are people who do, such as Grant Township Supervisor Gordy Kiesgen. For the past 39 years, he has donned the immaculate red suit his wife made for him, playing the role of Santa Claus for the Fox Lake Fire Department, chamber of commerce and other organizations. It's a job Kiesgen said he cherishes.

"I try to please as many people as I can. My attention is given strictly to the children," he said.

And there are the familiar faces. With so much time passed, Kiesgen now sees the third generation of some families sitting on his lap. He's been able to keep his role intact, though there have been some close calls.

NEAL TUCKER
Regional Editor

When he took his suit in to be cleaned one time, a little girl came out of the establishment's back room. She reacted in awe when she saw a Santa suit with no Santa inside it. Kiesgen thought quickly on his feet.

"Santa stopped by and asked me to have this cleaned. I had to give him some of my clothes to wear," Kiesgen responded to the open-mouthed girl as her mother walked into the room.

In Mundelein, many residents are delighted to see the return of Santa's Cottage in the downtown area. Mundelein, a community betterment organization, rebuilt the small building two years ago. Last year, the Santas inside hosted more than 2,000 children. For trustee and lifelong village resident Ray Semple, playing Santa in the cottage is in some part a chance to return to his childhood.

"As a child, I went to Santa's Cottage in Mundelein and sat on Santa's lap. It was one of the highlights of the year next to opening presents," Semple said.

Semple, who is volunteering for the third year, is actually working at improving his craft. He goes to other Santa appearances to see how they get children involved and entertained. He tells friends and relatives when he is playing Santa so they can bring their children to the cottage. He then enjoys their wonder when Santa begins telling them specific details about their parents and how they used to sit on his lap.

With all the joy given to children, it is heartwarming to the men who play Santa for what they receive in return.

Possibly the most precious memory Kiesgen has as playing Santa came from a house call he made to a Fox Lake home. Though Kiesgen has to turn down many appearance requests each year so he can complete his daily township tasks, he granted the request of one family to make a personal visit.

When he walked into the home, he realized for the first time why the family had so kindly asked him to stop by. Both children were handicapped and could not go into town to visit Santa like most boys and girls do.

Kiesgen was stunned and touched.

"It is a good thing I had my hat pulled down and my beard pulled up. I think I sat there and cried the whole time I was talking to them because they were so thrilled to see Santa Claus," Kiesgen said.

Winter comes to life at museum's interactive story

Join the Lake County Museum staff for an afternoon of interactive fun at Stories, Poems and Rhymes of the Season on Dec. 28 from 1:30 to 4 p.m. at the Lake County Forest Preserves' Lake County Museum.

A focus on the African-American celebration, Kwanzaa, and the New Year will round out the program on Dec. 28.

Children also have the chance to show their creativity as they decorate and later break a festive piñata. Snacks will be provided and there will be time to view the museum galleries and enjoy some quiet time at both programs.

The programs are for children ages 10 and under and the cost for each is $3. Reservations are required. The Lake County Museum is located in Lakewood Forest Preserve on Rte. 176.

For more information call 526-7878.

Sleepy bear

Papal Players will present "The Bear Who Slept Thru Christmas" through Dec. 30 at Cutting Hall in Palatine.

Scheduled performances are: Wednesday, Dec. 27 at 10:30 a.m.; Thursday, Dec. 28 at 10:30 a.m.; Friday, Dec. 29 at 10:30 a.m.; and Saturday, Dec. 30 at 10:30 a.m.

Ticket price is $5 in advance, $6 at the door. The theatre opens one half-hour prior to the show for seating. To reserve tickets call 359-9556.

Cutting Hall is located at 150 East Wood Street in Palatine.

'Family Day Sundays'

Explore local history and traditions with the staff and volunteers of the Lake County Forest Preserves' Lake County Museum at Family Day Sundays.

Join other families in the museum's galleries for exciting family-oriented activities such as participating in a scavenger hunt, making a bookmark, creating a memory game, or learning about African American history. Focusing on a different activity each week, Family Day Sundays will be held every Sunday from 1 to 4 p.m. There will be no activities Dec. 24.

General admission to the museum is $2 for adults and $1 for youth ages 4 to 18. Reservations are not required. The Lake County Museum is located in Lakewood Forest Preserve on Rte. 176, just west of Fairfield Road near Wauconda.

For more information call 526-7878.

DAR sponsors citizens contest

A Junior American Citizens contest is being sponsored for the second year by the Ansel Brainerd Cook Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Competition is open to Kindergarten through 12th grade students, including those who may be physically or mentally challenged.

This year's theme is "The Heritage of My Community." Project categories for Art are posters, banners and stamp designs, with specific sizes listed in the contest instructions. The Creative Expression category includes poetry and short stories following the contest theme. The Visual Arts category includes photographic essays and videos. Community Service and Special Projects are also categories that students may enter based on "The Heritage of My Community."

Students may enter individually, in groups or as a class project. Entries will be judged separately by each grade level, by individual, group and special education. Judging will be based on originality, creativity, neatness and organization, along with documentation of the child's work, such as bibliographies.

Winning entries from each grade will be forwarded to the state Junior American Citizens contest. Each grade and each category will be judged separately.

First place winners on the state level will be honored at the state DAR conference in Oakbrook in March. National winners will receive monetary awards.

All contest entries must be received by Carol George, JAC chairman for Ansel Brainerd Cook Chapter, by Jan. 19. For more information and specific contest rules, call 855-9036.

Mickey Goes Sailing

by JIM WARNKEN,
PRESIDENT, NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

I guess it was only a matter of time until Disney, the king of vacations, got in on the cruise action. In January of 1998 Disney will launch the Disney Magic, the first of two cruise ships which will make up the Disney Cruise Line.

This will be Disney's first venture into the fast growing market of family cruise vacations. No, the "Big Red Boat" is not owned by Disney. It was, at one time, the "Official Cruise Line of Disney," as Delta was the "Official Airline of Disney" (a distinction neither holds anymore), but Disney had no actual ownership in the line.

Disney's new ship will not look like any of today's shiny new superliners. (No, it will not have giant mouse ears for smoke stacks). Instead, the 85,000 ton ship will feature a classic exterior design reminiscent of the trans-Atlantic ocean liners of the 30's and 40's.

The Disney Magic, as the Disney Parks, will not cater just to families. Activities will be offered for anyone from honeymooners to seniors. In fact, the Disney Magic will even feature an "adults only" dining room, pool and night club.

Of course its family programs will be next to none. There will be a separate family/children's pool and family lounge as well as a designated teen club and game arcade.

Most new ships today have done away with movie theaters and instead offer videos in your cabin. The Disney Magic, however, will feature a 270-seat cinema showing first-run movies as well as Disney classics.

Live entertainment in the lounges will feature Disney-produced shows as well as adult-oriented lecture and enrichment programs.

In addition to the 6,700-square foot Spa and Salon, there's a sports deck with a batting cage, driving range and jogging track.

Almost half of the Disney Magic's staterooms will have private verandahs with most of the rest having an ocean view window.

Disney will offer a 3 or 4 day cruise on the Disney Magic, followed by a 3 or 4 day Walt Disney Resort stay. The cruise will visit at least one Caribbean port along with a day-long stop at a private Bahamian, an island recently purchased by Disney.

Reservations will be accepted beginning next summer for the Disney Magic's first sailing in 1998.

Postcard reproductions available

The David Adler Cultural Center and The Lake County Museum's Curt Teich Postcard Archives announce the availability of reproduction postcards from Postcard Art Competition/Exhibition 95 for sale. The competition challenging Illinois artists to create original art in the postcard format is dedicated to the American picture postcard, celebrating the postcard as art and visual document.

Judges Rebecca Goldberg, director of the Lake Forest College Art Gallery, and Mark Pascale, curator of prints and drawings at the Art Institute of Chicago, selected 12 winning entries that have been reproduced in actual postcards. The sets of reproduction postcards will be sold as a fundraiser to support both institutions. The sets will be sold for $9 and may be purchased at both the David Adler Cultural Center and the Lake County Museum.

The Lake County Museum's Curt Teich Postcard Archives is the nation's largest publicly held repository of postcards and related materials.

Christmas: Great expectations and the unexpected

I'm dreaming of the perfect Christmas,
The one I've made up in my mind,
Where the children listen,
My floors all glisten,
And folks want gifts that I can find...

If people could be holidays, and I could pick a holiday that I wanted to be, it definitely wouldn't be Christmas. Talk about pressure. We pile all of our hopes and dreams and emotion into a period of about 36 hours, and it inevitably falls short of our expectations. Look at all the suicides that occur at or near Christmas. I mean, have you ever heard of anyone who committed suicide because of Halloween: To whom it may concern: I tried, but I just couldn't find the right costume.

Good-bye.

Which is not to say that I don't like Christmas. Just the opposite. I love it. If I were a tree, I'd be loaded with sap, because that's what I'm like during the month of December—sappy. I put up the Christmas decorations as early as possible, cheer for every snowflake, and sing Christmas carols constantly for my youngest children who are, fortunately, not yet old enough to say to me, "Mom—please, I'm eating."

Still, like many of you, I approach each Christmas season with totally unrealistic expectations. I expect to fulfill all of my children's Christmas gift requests, although my youngest son's list consists of an entire Toys R Us catalog. I expect my freshly-cut Christmas tree to fill the house with the scent of pine throughout the holidays, despite the fact that it had officially become a large, brown fire hazard as of Dec. 19. I expect the children to enjoy the beautiful melody of songs like "O, Holy Night," when they would much prefer to hear "Grandma Got Run Over by a Reindeer." I expect my husband to thoughtfully choose a gift without an electrical cord prior to Christmas Eve. In other words, I expect MAGIC.

And there lies the problem, because magic is not in the expected—magic is in the unexpected. My favorite Christmas memories are of moments that were totally unplanned and unexpected.

For instance, there was the time two years ago, when our doorbell rang at around 3 p.m. on Christmas. I opened the door, and there stood what appeared to be Santa Claus, asking if little Brandon was home. I didn't know what to say. Two thoughts came to mind—he was either the real Santa Claus, or he was a very clever criminal who was using my son's name as a ruse to gain entry to our home and then hold us at gun point and rob or kill us. I decided that before I let him in, I'd call my husband to the door for security.

"Brandy? Umm...you won't believe this, but Santa Claus is here."

Soon, the entire family was standing around the door, and we finally let "Santa" in, not sure what else to do. He spoke with our youngest son, who was completely awestruck and unable to close his jaw for several minutes. Santa informed him that he was just checking on his satisfaction with Christmas. Then he wished us all a Merry Christmas and left. At that point, even the adults were starting to wonder if maybe he really WAS Santa Claus. (It turned out he was a relative of our next-door neighbors).

But my fondest Christmas memory was during a particularly difficult period of my life several years ago. I was a single parent with two young boys, and as Christmas approached, I was feeling pretty down. Money was tight and in order to afford enough presents for the children, I decided that we would have to do without a Christmas tree.

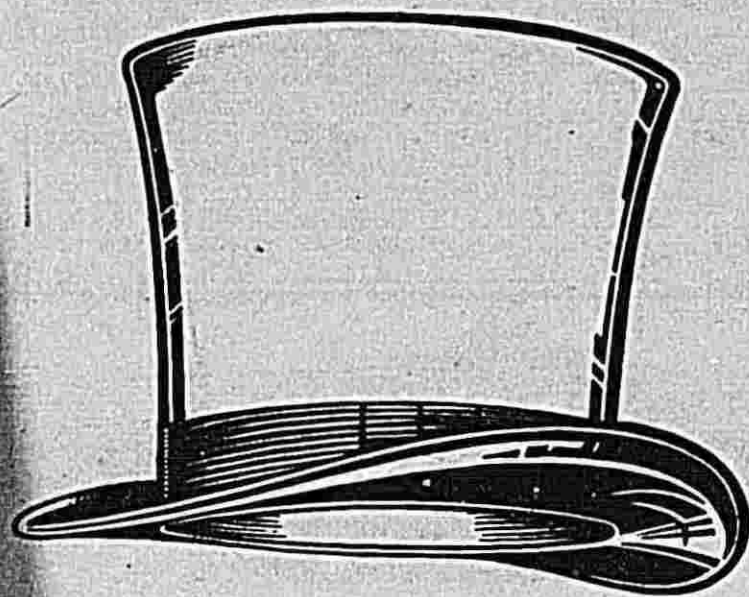

About a week before Christmas, I arrived home from work, tired and glum. I opened my apartment door, and as I did, the glow of colored lights filled the doorway. There, in my living room, stood a beautiful Christmas tree, completely decorated with lights and ornaments. I found out later that it was the work of my brother Frank, who had decided to surprise me.

I don't think I've ever appreciated another gift more than I did that tree. Why? Because for one moment, when I opened the door and saw the tree, I felt the same sense of wonder that I did as a child on Christmas morning. I believed in magic.

I'm dreaming of a magic Christmas,
With every column that I write,
May your days be jolly and bright,
And may all your Lotto picks be right! (THAT would certainly be unexpected!)

Movie Pick

'Father of the Bride II' better 2nd time around

In this movie era when Hollywood seems to have run out of writers with an original thought that doesn't have to do with sanguine killings or intergalactic visits, we have another sequel to a sequel, "Father of the Bride II."

This of course is the sequel to "Father of the Bride I and II" and a remake of another sequel, "Father's Little Dividend," vintage 1950s.

Steve Martin, whose forte is family comedy, as in "Parent-hood" and the second "Father of the Bride," has another "feel good," laugh riot on his hands.

The comedy is greatly enhanced by Martin Short's repeat of the theatrical caterer from the second "Father I." In the sequel Short starts out to cater the twin baby showers and ends up as Martin's decorator, his wife's personal fitness person, and in the end, daddy's and grandpa's best friend.

The addition of the sparkling Diane Keaton as Martin's wife and lovely Kimberly Williams as his daughter, not withstanding, the two Martins have the audience in their slapstick-filled hip pockets in this one.

Martin's father is barely recovering from his daughter's wedding when he finds out that he is about to be a grandfather. Martin, who is not prepared for grandfatherhood, goes on a wild search for the Fountain of Youth, dying his hair, new wardrobe, etc.

To his surprise, his search is so successful that he and Keaton find romance in the kitchen that puts them back where they were over 20 years ago, as they join the nursery crowd for the second time around.

Short's hysterical overseeing of the decorating of a zillion dollar nursery is a highlight and the coinciding births of the two bundles of joy is one of the best and funniest things Martin has ever done.

Steve Martin and a surprise bundle of joy

Of course there are more than a few daffy scenes, but it wouldn't be a Steve Martin flick if there weren't. There is also a lot of cornball sentimentality which is almost refreshing in the light of today's popular ultra-numb sophistication.

For good clean, sometimes mindless laughter and family fun, we give "Father II" four out of five stars.

"Father II" carries an unsophisticated PG Rating which makes it a great family movie for the holidays just like the saccharin and even cornier "It's a Wonderful Life," which we still watch at Christmas time more than 50 years after it was made.—

Concert chorus releases CD

The Waukegan Concert Chorus announces the release of its first recording, "Caroling, Caroling! Christmas Concert Highlights of the Waukegan Concert Chorus."

"We've had requests for a Waukegan Concert Chorus CD for several years from audience members, chorus members and others who have heard the chorus," Don Horisberger, director of the Waukegan Concert Chorus explained. "This CD brings together selections from the last five Christmas concerts, which have been some of our best performances."

The CD is priced at $12, cassettes are $10. Copies are available at The Jack Benny Center for Arts in Bowen Park, 39 Jack Benny Dr., Waukegan. For more information call 360-4742.

GIFT CERTIFICATES ON SALE

HOROSCOPE

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) It's a good time for you to seek that financial backing you need for a special project. You also need to do some last-minute shopping since Christmas will be upon you before you know it.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Spend some time this week wrapping up last-minute holiday preparations. Make sure you check your pantry and refrigerator and have all the necessary vittles to entertain the holiday guests you've invited over.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Before you think about all those holiday parties, there is work to attend to. Co-workers and family alike are more than willing to come to your aid, so take advantage of this. Try to keep children's excitement to a manageable level.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) You're going over everyone's wish list and making sure you're filling it to the best of your ability. However, remember that not everything good has to be expensive. A gift of your time, such as an offer to babysit, is more of a gift of the heart.

LEO (July 23 to August

22) Someone surprises you this week with an early holiday gift. Don't feel bad if you haven't yet put this person on your list. You still have time before the big day and will be able to come up with something reciprocal.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) It's not even Christmas yet, but your holiday spirit has gone into super high gear. There isn't a nook or cranny in your house that doesn't sport some holiday frippery. Take time, though, to relax and enjoy good times with family.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Thanks to your early planning, you are able now to just tend to daily tasks without worrying about last-minute shopping, baking or cooking.

When the big day finally arrives, you can feel free to sit back and enjoy.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) You're filled with the sights and sounds of the holiday season. However, don't get so caught up with the commercial aspect that you ignore the true meaning of this religious holiday. Make sure family members participate as well.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) The beginning of the week finds you in a less than festive mood. Perhaps this is because you're missing those people who live far away and whom you won't see for the holiday. Cheer yourself up and get on the phone for the assurance you need.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Stop being such a Scrooge and start enjoying this magical time of the year. Children in particular are looking to you so don't disappoint them. A very special loved one can get you out of your doldrums.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) This is your favorite time of year — filled with parties, friends, family and lots of socializing. You flit from one party to another with a seemingly endless supply of energy. However, get enough rest.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) The shopping is done, the goodies are baked, the gifts are wrapped. There's nothing left to do but sit by the tree and wait for Santa. Take some special time to read a holiday story to the kiddies.

Cooking by the Book

A modern approach to roasting

The age-old art of roasting gets a fresh '90s look in a new paperback, "Roasting," (Macmillan, $16) by Kathy Gunst.

A revered method for preparing meat, roasting also works well with fruit, fish, vegetables and even cheese. Gunst provides timely tips on preparation, equipment and health-conscious recipes.

Her "Roast Pork Tenderloin with Mustard-Maple-Sage Glaze" is simple and elegant.

Roast Pork Tenderloin

1 tsp. vegetable or pure olive oil

1 to 1 1/2 lb. pork tenderloin

2 T. Dijon mustard

2 T. pure maple syrup or honey

1 1/2 T. chopped fresh sage; or 1 1/2 tsp. dried

4 medium-sized baking potatoes, peeled and quartered

Salt and freshly ground black pepper

Sweet Hungarian paprika

About 1/3 c. dry sherry or white wine

1 1/2 tsp. all-purpose flour

About 1 c. homemade beef or chicken stock, or canned low-sodium broth

Preheat the oven to 400 degrees. Lightly grease the bottom of a medium-sized or large flameproof roasting pan or ovenproof skillet with the oil and put the pork in it. In a small bowl, mix the mustard, maple syrup or honey, and 1 tablespoon of the sage. Spread the top and sides of the pork with the glaze.

Surround the pork with the potatoes and sprinkle them with salt, pepper and paprika. Add pepper and paprika to the top of the pork and pour the sherry or wine around (not on top of) it.

Roast the pork for 10 minutes. Reduce the oven temperature to 325 degrees. Turn the potatoes over and baste the pork. Continue roasting until the internal temperature reaches 155 degrees—30 or 40 minutes. Add more sherry or wine if the pan dries out. Remove the roasting pan from the oven. Place the pork on a carving board, cover loosely with aluminum foil and let sit for five to 10 minutes. Place the potatoes in a warm bowl and cover loosely.

Discard any excess fat in the roasting pan. Place the pan on the stove over moderate heat. Sprinkle in the flour and stir to make a paste. Cook, stirring, until it turns golden brown, about one minute. Slowly whisk in the stock or both, add the remaining sage, plus salt and pepper, and let simmer until slightly thickened and flavorful, about five minutes. Thinly slice pork and serve it with the roast potatoes and the gravy. Makes four to six servings.—by TOM WITOM

WHERE TO EAT OUT

FEATURE OF THE WEEK

DiMarco's is open with new twists

When DiMarco's Restaurant, at 883 Main St. in Antioch, closed its doors last summer, it seemed that an Antioch legend had gone forever.

Well the legend lives, although with a slight change in name. Now called DiMarco's Trattoria di donaponti, the restaurant is the product of a collaboration between the two restaurant owners, Donna DiMarco and Gene Pontillo, who plan to open DiMarco's Trattoria di donaponti of Lake Zurich after the first of the year.

The addition to the name is not the only new thing at the "donaponti," the restaurant has undergone some physical changes as well such as the additional parking in a paved lot behind the restaurant. Friday and Saturday evening diners will be able to take advantage of the new valet parking. The lounge has also been expanded.

DiMarco's is now featuring more affordable food items such as half orders of their popular entrees priced at $4.50, yet the quality of the food, including the north and south Italian specialties diners have grown to love, remains high and everything served remains as excellent. Some wonderful ala carte items have also been added.

In order to please diners that desire a good meal, but don't want to wait for a special occasion to enjoy it, a visit to DiMarco's has become a more casual dining experience.

The restaurant still has banquet facilities able to handle up to 130 people for private parties and special celebrations. With the holiday upon us, DiMarco's is planning a gala New Year's Eve Party. There will be three seatings: at 5:30, 7:30 and 9:30 p.m., with dining off the regular menu. Those attending the 9:30 p.m. seating will have a special party package available which will include Shrimp Cocktail, a Salad, a choice of three entrees: Strip Steak Formaggio, Veal Venezia or the Italian Seafood Platter and bread and butter. Included in the package is an open bar with free champagne, entertainment, dancing, hats and noisemakers, gauged to bring the New Year in with a DiMarco's bang! Make reservations early!

DiMarco's is closed on Monday, open Tuesday through Sunday at 5 p.m. For reservations and other information, call DiMarco's at (708)395-8883.

Longhorn has healthy dining for taste conscious

"We are a positive combination," said Paul Gasior of Longhorn Steak House. "We feel the economic times and the growth in the area are all very positive; our restaurant and banquet facility reflect this. We're very cost and quality conscious and give people what they're looking for in these times."

Chef Ron Skow serves hand selected cuts of beef trimmed lean for health-conscious diners. The fresh seafood menu was expanded to include Yellow Fin Tuna, Swordfish, fresh Salmon and Grouper. There's a wide variety of pastas and an extended lite fare and burger menu! Large portions and a full salad bar reflect the "back to basics" philosophy.

Gasior served as vice-president of the McHenry County Restaurant Association in 1995 and will serve as president in 1996. Longhorn's has also received the Gold Plate Award of the county.

Longhorn's family friendly menu has a full children's menu and a casual atmosphere overlooking Lily Lake. Longhorn's Lakemoor banquet hall is located one-half mile east and seats 850. Both facilities are scheduled for the addition of outdoor seating.

A new addition to their "family friendly format" is Sunday Family Style Dining. Large platters of food are passed at your table in the same fashion that Grandma served! Best of all, it's all you can eat.

Enhancing the "supper club" image is the music in the lounge on Friday and Saturday nights. Listen to all the goodies from the '30s, '40s and '50s, soft contemporary music, and show tunes.

The Longhorn is open for lunch Monday through Friday from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., with dinner served Monday through Saturday from 5 to 10 p.m. Sunday dinner is from 1 to 8 p.m.

The restaurant is planning a gala New Year's Eve celebration. The special menu will include Chef Ron's favorite dishes from 1995. Party hats, noise makers and a champagne toast at midnight will be on the house for those who will join us in the perfect way kiss 1995 goodbye and bid 1996 hello!

Visit the Longhorn on Route 120, two and one-half miles west of Route 12, just 10 minutes west of Grayslake.

Frank Potter,

Age 83, of Billings, passed away Thursday, December 14, 1995 at Aspen Meadows. He was born November 8, 1912 in Galesburg, Illinois to Helen (Craig) and Albert W. Potter. Frank graduated from Galesburg High School and went on to Knox College where he graduated with degrees in economics and public speaking. Frank married Virginia, his college sweetheart, on October 14, 1936 in Austin, Illinois. Frank and Virginia recently celebrated their 59th wedding anniversary. From Knox, Frank went to work for Continental Bank in Chicago as a messenger, moving up through the ranks as a manager over ten years. His banking career led him to LaGrange State Bank in the Chicago suburbs, Houghton National Bank in Houghton, Michigan and back to Illinois where he became President and Chairman of the Board of American National Bank in Waukegan, Gurnee National Bank in Gurnee and Lake Villa Trust and Savings Bank in Lake Villa. Frank was very active in civic affairs everywhere he lived. He was Past President of the Waukegan, Illinois Rotary Club, served as District Governor in the 1960's and was a Paul Harris Fellow. Frank chaired the United Way campaign in Waukegan in 1968 and served as a member of the Warren Township High School Board. Frank was an active member of the Christian Science Church in every community in which he lived, serving as First Reader, Second Reader, soloist, usher, Sunday school teacher and board member. Frank traveled extensively, visiting Rotary friends in the Dominican Republic, Venezuela and Argentina. Frank served as a Supply Corp Officer with a Navy Construction Battalion in World War II in Fiji, Funafuti, and New Caledonia. He went on to retire as a Captain in the Naval Reserves. Frank was active in local Republican politics and served as campaign treasurer for Congressman Bob McClory. Frank was an avid gardener. He had his own greenhouse and took pride in his landscaping skills. He was also a stamp collector and a member of the American Philatelic Society.

Survivors include his wife, Virginia; son, Dave and daughter-in-law, Carol of Billings; 2 grandchildren, Tom and his wife, Elizabeth of Arlington Heights and Betsy of Billings. He was preceded in death by his parents, Albert and Helen Potter.

Mr. Potter was cremated. Memorial services will take place on Sunday at 4 p.m. at the Aspen Meadows Chapel. Memorials may be made to Rotary International Foundation, 1 Rotary Center, 1560 Sherman Ave., Evanston, Illinois, 60201. Arrangements were entrusted to Michelotti, Sawyers and Nordquist.

Maria M. Dziembor, of Grayslake passed away Tuesday, December 19, 1995 at Lake Forest Hospital, Lake Forest. She was born in Jaroslaw, Poland and came to the United States in 1981 and had made her home at Grayslake for the past 9 years.

Survivors include her daughter, Elzbieta (Czeslaw) Kentzer of Grayslake; other family members residing in Poland. She was preceded in death by her husband, Zygmunt Dziembor on May 18, 1971.

Mass of the Resurrection was offered at 11 a.m. Thursday, December 21, 1995 at the St. Gilbert Catholic Church, 301 E. Belvidere Rd., Grayslake. Interment followed at Ascension Cemetery, Libertyville. Arrangements were entrusted to Strang Funeral Chapel, LTD., 410 E. Belvidere Rd., Grayslake.

Ronald A. Stine,

Age 67, formerly of Antioch recently of Clinton, Tennessee passed away suddenly at home. The family resided in Antioch for 25 years. He was a member of the Antioch Moose Lodge.

Survivors include his wife, Demma Mae; a daughter, Sherry Allen of Rockford; a son, Gary.

Arrangements were at Holly Camble, Tuesday, December 19, 1995.

Marie J. Abel (nee) Pappas,

Age 79, of Fox Lake, passed away December 3, 1995 at home. Beloved wife of Frank W. Abel. Fond mother of Elaine F. Nielson of Fox Lake. Devoted grandmother of Dennis and Adonia Dashiell, loving great-grandmother of Felicia, Myranda and Geena Marie Dashiell. Dear sister of Anna Williams of Vallejo, California. She was preceded in death by 3 brothers, James, George, and Frank and 1 sister, Eva Krejci. Member of Women of the Moose and the Garden Club of Fox Lake. Friends may gather for Mass of the Resurrection, Thursday, December 7, 1995 at 10 a.m. St. Bede's Catholic Church, 36455 N. Wilson Rd., Ingleside. Visitation was held Wednesday, December 6, 1995, 2-8 p.m. American Family Funeral Home, 104 High Rd., Cary. Burial at Windridge Cemetery.

Stewart L. Patterson,

Age 56, of Wildwood passed away Wednesday, December 13, 1995 at his residence. He was born in Shelby, Michigan on November 28, 1939 and had made his home in Wildwood the past 20 years. He was a Veteran of the Vietnam Conflict serving with the United States Air Force. A member of the V.F.W. of North Chicago.

Survivors include his former wife, Mary Lynn Patterson of Wildwood; 1 daughter, Lisa Patterson of Kenosha; 1 son, Scott (Kelly) of St. Charles, Illinois; 3 brothers, Lyle of Seattle, Washington, Jerry and Dennis Patterson both of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania; several nieces and nephews. He is preceded in death by a daughter, Christina in 1986.

REQUEST:

Antioch, IL 60002
phone: (708) 395-1881
fax: (708) 395-9482

Petitioner is requesting a zoning text amendment, specifically to Section 150.117 of the Antioch Village Code.

PROPOSAL:

The proposed text amendment is included in the memorandum/petition dated December 14, 1995 and on file in the Office of Village Clerk. The proposal provides for some exceptions to the maximum ten-foot front setback requirement within the Downtown Overlay District. Following hearing and deliberation by the Planning & Zoning Board, the Village may consider modified language, but which also meets the same purpose and intent as that presented.

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search: I read your column every week in the Great Lakes Bulletin. I find it very informative and helpful since I am beginning my own employment search.

I will be separating from the Navy in approximately seven months. I have been reading every thing I can find about resumes, cover letters, job searches, etc., but all of these give very little advice on conducting long distance job searches.

I plan on moving out of state upon discharge. I am not able to travel there on a frequent basis due to the distance. I have been in contact with several possible employers by telephone and plan on taking at least one trip to the area before my discharge.

Any tips or pointers for me or someone else in a similar position? Thank you very much for your time and your excellent column. Keep up the great work! Sincerely, G.D. - Great Lakes

A: Dear G.D. You failed to mention what city or state you were moving to. You further forgot to mention what type of employment you would be searching for, which may make a difference. In your position, you do not necessarily have the flexibility that others outside of the service may have, which may appear to be more difficult. It doesn't have to be. If you are targeting a specific type of employment, obtain a yellow page telephone book that will list employment search firms. Since telephone is your best source for search at this time, make some calls to find which firms specialize in your type of desired employment, whether it be mechanical engineering, architecture, accounting, or whatever. If you are unable to find this on your own, contact a leader in the industry you desire, and speak with a Human Resource Manager to see if they are accepting resumes. At that time also ask if they can tell you who it is they deal with or can recommend for nationwide employment search in that field. Once you have a few names of search firms ... call around. Tell them the situation and that you are looking to re-locate to a specific area. They will then take you through the channels of what they need from you. Select a company that does not charge you a fee for this service. Most of the leg work will then be in place. If you are looking for employment in the office support area, say, secretarial, light accounting, data entry, customer service ... Again, obtain a copy of the yellow pages for that area select an employment service that does not charge you a fee. Contact them by telephone and state the situation. Let all parties know the dates that you will be in town for which you will be available for interviewing. In all cases, allow the parties to also know that you will make yourself available for any telephone interviews that may be needed. Classic situation of course would be to have a job awaiting your arrival. This may happen ... I hope it does, but in the event things do not fall in to place the way you planned, immediately sign on with a temporary agency who will keep the cash flow flowing in the meantime. Good luck in your endeavor.

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee. Letters can be sent to Nancy at 4949 Grand Ave., Gurnee, IL 60031.

This Year ... Try a twist on your banking career

NBD currently has interesting opportunities available for dynamic self-starters with a sharp eye for success and retail sales/customer service experience to join our Super Mart center branches.

PERSONAL BANKERS Part-time

You will handle an interesting mix of traditional banking duties and aggressive marketing, servicing customers and capitalizing on cross sales opportunities. CRT experience is preferred.

These positions are available at our VERNON HILLS and ROUND LAKE BEACH facilities. Weekend hours are included for both locations. We offer a competitive salary and benefits package.

Try a twist on the old banking career ... contact us immediately to schedule an interview.

PET OF THE WEEK

RED

Red is a handsome, male mostly collie mix. Red has a striking red and cream silky soft, mid-length coat with a thick ruff of fur around his neck and a fringe tail. Just a years old, this larger medium size dog is lively and playful, but calm and well-behave. Red loves people and prefers teenagers and adults for companionship. Collie's are smart, easy to train dogs that genuinely want to please. They have a touching sense of loyalty and never run out of affection. Red loves to give kisses and he positively glows whenever anyone gives him a kind word, a gentle pet and a smile.

VERA
A wide lot is required to build the 1926 square foot Vera. The configuration of this exciting new floor design has the isolated master suite on the left side of the house and the secondary bedrooms on the right. With the common areas in the middle, privacy is assured not only for the occupants of the master suite, but those in the other bedrooms as well. This arrangement will be especially beneficial to a family with high-school students needing their own "space", or one with aging parents sharing the home.
Dignified columns frame the recessed entry and compliment the attractive brick and siding exterior of the Vera. Once inside, the commendable use of the available space is evident throughout the entire residence. The expansive master suite includes among its numerous amenities, a huge walk-in closet, raised television shelf and a private bathroom with twin basins.
This end of the house also contains a large storage area with access to the three-car garage, and a handy utility room with a sink and built-in ironing board. Pull-down stairs in the garage will take you up to an attic with an additional 480 square feet of storage capacity.
The up-to-date kitchen, easy to maneuver around in, features an island cooktop, walk-in pantry, appliance center, built-in desk and a bright breakfast nook. If the weather is agreeable, have your morning coffee on the adjacent covered patio.
The formal dining room with a beautiful built-in hutch, and the front living room, both have a coffered vault ceiling. When entertaining your guests in the comfortable living room, a combination gas/wood fireplace will keep everyone nice and cozy regardless of the conditions outside.
A skylit hallway leads to the secondary bedrooms. They are both good-sized and have plenty of windows along with ample closet space. The smaller of the two has a built-in file cabinet, and with the addition of a desk and computer, can easily be converted for use as a home office. Nearby are two spots for linen storage and a full bathroom with twin basins.
For a study kit of the VERA (404-07), send $10.00, to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number). For a collection of plan books featuring our most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark, or call 1-800-562-1151.

"My washer and dryer SOLD the same day the paper came out. The caller saw it in the Round Lake News. Thanks Lakeland for the quick response!"

R.F., Libertyville.

"The response was overwhelming! We had to cancel our ad after the first week on our Fox Lake house. We only wished we had 30 houses to rent for all those who called.

Thank you Lakeland Newspapers!"

C.L., Lake Zurich.

"I was delighted that I got quite a lot of calls after placing my ad in the Lakeland Newspapers. I got the house rented right away."

K.C., Niles.

"I always have good luck with your papers. I've run ads with the Fox Lake Press for eight or nine years and have always rented the apartment right away."

B.S., Mt. Prospect.

"We often place our Real Estate advertising with Lakeland Newspapers because we know by placing them in the Classifieds we are covering all the areas we need. When our busy office needed additional personnel, naturally, we placed our ad with Lakeland Newspapers. The response to our ad was remarkable. It provided us with a variety of people to interview as well as those to keep on file for the future."

What's Missing?

Do you want to rediscover the simplicity of Christmas instead of the insanity, busyness or even the business of it all? Do you need a fresh breath of the true Christmas Spirit?

Every year, Alpine Chapel offers contemporary Christmas Eve services that are relevant, relaxed, family oriented and designed to answer what's missing.

Join us at any of our three identical Christmas Eve services.

Join us at

LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' 37TH ANNUAL

GIFT SPOTTER

Create fragrant, traditional holiday potpourri

Here is a recipe for a decorative, scented potpourri that blends traditional fragrances of the season. Ingredients and amounts suggested can be adjusted according to your own creative sense.

- 1 quart fresh evergreen needles
- 10-20 small pine cones
- 1 cup whole bay leaves
- 3 cups holly, sassafras, oak, magnolia or orange leaves
- 3 cups dried orange peel
- 1 cup cinnamon sticks
- 1/2 cup whole cloves
- 1/2 cup juniper berries

Tips:

Preparing this potpourri affords an opportunity for holiday fun for the entire family. It is easy to make, and many ingredients can be gathered from the backyard or on a family outing to a nearby woods. A two-foot bough will yield several quarts of needles. To remove the needles from a fresh bough, use large scissors and work over a deep, wide-mouthed bowl, cutting the needles off close to the stem. If you allow the branches to dry for a week or so, you can easily strip the needles off by hand.

Holly contributes immeasurably to the color and texture of this Christmas Potpourri. Tree leaves are a desirable addition and can be used fresh or dry. Crush about half of them before mixing and add the rest whole. If you can find them, add whole bayberry leaves for fragrance and texture.

This holiday potpourri makes a thoughtful and original gift. For presentation fill a basket decorated for the occasion or a Christmas stocking, simply fashioned from red or green net, machine-stitched along the sides and tied at the top with a Christmas ribbon.

Overtime hex thwarts Warren girls' efforts

Simply put, these overtime losses are more than a little hard to take.

Make that excruciating for members of Warren High's girls basketball team.

Conant is the latest squad which has taken the Blue Devils beyond regulation and won. The 61-56 verdict was the third overtime loss in four defeats for Warren.

"We had the shot at the end; it just did not go in. This was our third overtime loss and a tough one. We cannot get over the hill in overtime games," Warren Coach Bruce Campbell said.

Other OT defeats came at the hands of Glenbrook South and Stevenson.

Conant won the game at the free-throw line, where the Cougars outscored the home team 24-8. They also had 32 chances to Warren's 12.

Conant senior forward Tracy Schrader did most of the damage, with 14-of-18 and finishing with 18 points, Kristen Wilson ended with 14 points, including the game-winners from the charity stripe with 5.2 seconds left. She had missed one the previous trip, but Warren's Nicole Thompson and Becky Moo missed three-point baskets at the other end.

Freshman Tiffany Kelter, coming off a 15-point outing, was held to six, but her lone trey was critical. Left wide open, she squared up and swished a three-pointer for a 51-51 tie with two minutes left in regulation.

Conant, 10-1, held the ball until less than 10 seconds remained, but missed three close-in shots.

Tracy Fielder scored her only basket of the night to give Warren a brief overtime lead.

After a Conant tie, Carrie Schneider (13 points) made a free throw with 2:36 left for a 54-53 lead.

But Schrader worked her free-throw magic twice and 6-0 Heather Kusch tipped home a miss for a 57-54 lead.

Thompson (six points) banked home a 12-footer for a one-point deficit, but Conant made four-of-six free throws in the final 35 seconds.

"We had some shots at the end of regulation and they were all good shots. Warren is an excellent team," Conant Coach Jerry Cunningham said.

Warren leader Julie Minuskin popped in five three-pointers for her 21 total points. She ignited a Warren run with four at the end of the first half and beginning of the second for a 32-25 lead. Thompson and Moo both scored, both from Minuskin assists.

A technical foul called on the Warren bench stopped that momentum. Schrader led the visitors on a 15-0 run which concluded when Kusch put home a shot from close range for an eight-point lead.

Warren was not done, taking control in the fourth quarter with a pressing defense.

"We played well to get back into it," Campbell said. Warren is at the Maine East tournament Dec. 28-29.

CLC battles top-notch competition

Playing tough competition may pay dividends next month when conference play begins.

That is what College of Lake County's mens basketball team is hoping after two lopsided losses at the Highland tournament in Freeport. CLC fell to Highland 114-87 and to College of DuPage 78-57, falling to 3-8.

Next up is another two-day tournament, this one at University of Wisconsin-Wisconsin Rapids. CLC faces Lincoln Trail in the first round on Dec. 27.

"We played a couple of good teams and they beat us pretty soundly. We have been playing a lot of tough competition and every team we have played has a winning record. We played hard in spurts. The only regret was the loss to Harper," CLC Coach Bruce Smith said.

Jason Black scored 19 points for the Lancers, teammate Joel Dangel had 17 and Pete Ferguson tallied 10.

"We were down by 17 points at halftime and cut it down to eight before they pulled away at the end," Smith said of the COD game.

Kindle, a Waukegan High grad, had 21 points, but the next highest was Dangel with nine. Harper bested CLC 96-80. Filiatreault had 22 points, Kindle 20.

Panther girls garner second win of season

Two solid efforts gained a split for the Round Lake girls basketball team last week in a pair of Northwest Suburban Conference contests.

The Panthers (2-13) downed Marian Central 59-53 after a 61-55 loss to Johnsburg.

"Our league is so evenly balanced. We have improved a lot and led early against Marian Central," said Round Lake Coach Gary Edge.

Christy Nichols scored 18 points to lead the winners against Marian. Andrea Jandrich scored 15 points, while teammate Jamie D'Andrea added 13.

D'Andrea made the clutch fourth-period free throws that kept the Panthers ahead. She hit seven of nine from the charity stripe in the final eight minutes. Round Lake's biggest lead was 14 points.

"We had three starters foul out, so the subs did a nice job of holding the lead," said Edge.

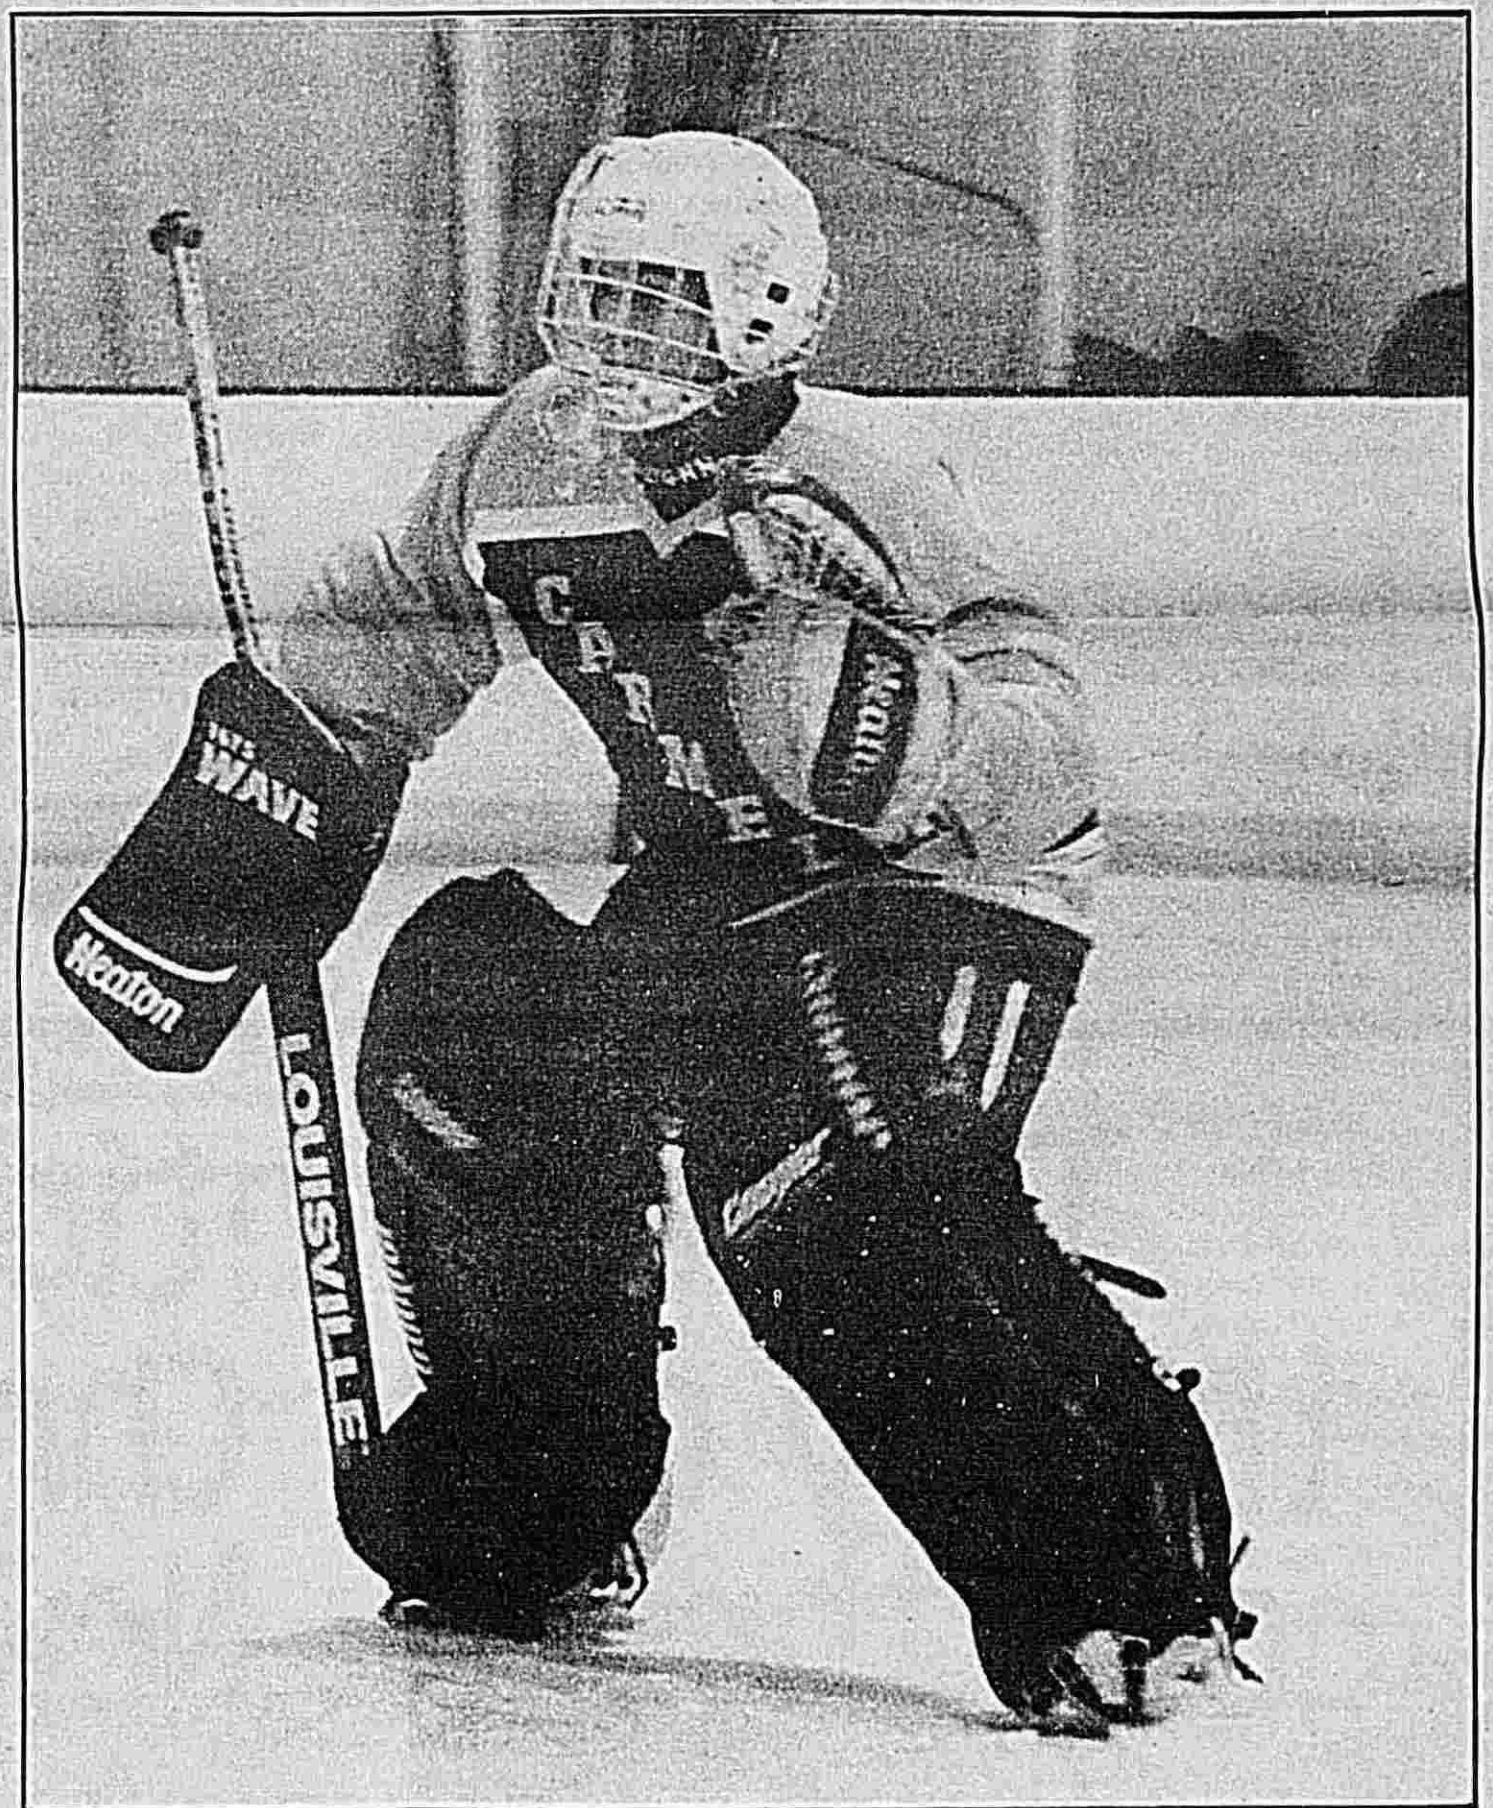

The Woodstock Christmas Tournament has not helped the Panthers' holiday spirit, however, as the RLHS girls have dropped games to Hononegah (73-34), and Woodstock 76-44.

Hononegah showed why it had lost only two games thus far in the season. The Indians outscored Round Lake 19-7 in the first period and never looked back.

Nichols hit double digits in the loss to Woodstock with 13 points.

"They had 40 points on offensive rebounds. They were 6-1, 6-0 and 5-11. They also had 14 blocks," said Edge.

Streamwood was the third tournament foe for Round Lake, playing RLHS Tuesday night.

Wildcat club wrestlers shine at holiday tournament

Four boys from the Libertyville Wildcat Youth Wrestling Club competed in the Lake Villa Lancer Holiday Wrestling Tournament held at Antioch High School. The field included over 350 wrestlers from six to 14 years old.

The Libertyville club was represented by Shawn Fitzpatrick and Jim Friend in the 11- and 12-year-old division, while Brian Potesta and Mark Friend represented the 9- and 10-year-old division.

Jim Friend came back from a first-round pin at the hands of the eventual tournament champion to win sixth place. His tournament was highlighted by a 42 first period pin of a member of the host team.

Fitzpatrick represented himself well, though he dropped his first two matches in the double-elimination tourney.

Mark Friend was the tourney's top Wildcat, taking second in his division. He won his first match with a 12-4 major decision, then pinned his next two opponents to make the championship round.

Friend's opponent in the finals had won all of his three previous matches by first-period pin, but Friend gave him a run for his money. Though he eventually lost a 7-3 decision, Friend wrestled a gritty match.

Potesta garnered a first-round decision before falling in his second match on a controversial call, a takedown at the buzzer. He went on to take fourth place in his division.

Gymnasts make strong showing at Invitational

The Libertyville gymnastics squad made a respectable showing at the 1995 Palatine Invitational, taking fourth place in a field of eight teams.

The Wildcats were strongest in the vault and beam competitions, garnering third in each. In the vault, Julie Gack led the way with a 9.25 average. Close behind was teammate Kim Betlinski with a 9.15 average.

Betlinski led the Wildcat pack on the beam, tallying an 8.6 score. The Wildcats' Beth Grassfield was close behind with an 8.55 mark. Betlinski continued her team leadership in the uneven bars competition, pacing LHS with an 8.95 mark. Amy Wilkinson added some flair for the Wildcats, averaging 8.75.

Wilkinson's 9.1 average in the floor exercises was tops for Libertyville, while teammate Courtney Morgan turned in a strong performance with an 8.85 average.

Other LHS gymnasts who contributed to the scoring were: Kristan Shawgo and Tiffany

Level 6 team ties for first place

The level 6 compulsory girl's team from the Gymnastics Spot in Mundelein participated in "Winter Wonderland," a home meet invitational held in conjunction with the level 5 sectional. The team tied for first place.

The following are the overall scores achieved by the level 6 compulsory team: Elisabeth Augsburger, Libertyville, 32.00; Ashley Beyers, Lake Zurich, 36.00; Jackie Davis, Mundelein, 33.00; Elizabeth Lepley, Mundelein, 35.20; Jessica Lossman, Kildeer, 30.95; Jessica See LEVEL 6 page C28

Winter forecast spells banner year for Wilmot Mountain Ski Area

Wilmot Mountain Ski Area broke another record this season.

After opening Nov. 13 for the earliest start in its 55-year history, the resort opened the last of its 24 ski runs on Dec. 11. According to Wilmot Mountain President Michael Reese, that is the earliest date ever that the entire area has been ready for skiing.

Reese credits the resort's mountain crew for working almost non-stop for two weeks to blanket the mile-wide expanse of skiable terrain with an average of two feet of snow. In some places, the snow is seven feet deep already.

"We have been fortunate to get lots of cold weather since mid-November," said Reese. "When the temperature gets down close to zero, as it has most nights recently, we can really crank up our snow guns."

The resort's snowmaking equipment is state-of-the-art. Given optimal conditions, the 100-gun arsenal can blanket as many as four runs with up to a foot of fresh powder in a single night.

"Mother Nature also had a hand in providing such superb ski conditions so early in the season," said Reese. "We got six inches of heavy snow in November that helped us build a solid base. More recently we have had numerous snowfalls that have added another foot of light powder to the slopes. The mix of machine-made snow and natural powder snow has combined to provide outstanding ski conditions."

With an inordinately snowy winter forecast, the resort could have excellent conditions well into March.

Wilmot Mountain is open for skiing from 10 a.m. to 11 p.m. daily. Rental equipment is available, as are ski lessons. For the current snow report, skiers can call the resort's 24-hour hotline at (312) 736-0787, or (414) 862-2301. The resort is located on the Illinois-Wisconsin border, between Antioch and Richmond, off Highway 173.

Indoor soccer brings success for three area teams

Lake Zurich Roaring Rapids

The Lake Zurich Roaring Rapids U-12 girls indoor soccer team added another digit to the win column, dominating the Vipers 9-4.

The offensive attack was sparked by Susan Slabaugh and Heather Keil with a pair of goals each. Julie Dickens, Tara Weaver, Natalie Sparacie, Gina Perciabosco and Megan Hinch each added one goal each. Slabaugh also tallied an assist, while Michelle Anderson and Amber Jefferson helped drive the offensive attack.

Defensive standouts Gretchen Hildebrandt, Kristen Mill and Justine Pesko aided strong performances by Rapids goalies Beth Arvidson and Lindsey Patterson.

Warren Blazers

The Warren U-10 Blazers kicked off their boys indoor soccer season by competing in the 41 Sports Club U-10 tournament.

The Blazers faced the Hinsdale Shockers in their first game. They took an early lead on a goal by Nathan Rittenberry, but a Hinsdale goal left the game knotted at 1-1. Rittenberry also scored the Blazers' lone goal in the second game, as Warren fell to the Glenview Mustangs by a 4-1 margin.

Another loss closed out the first-round competition, with the Northbrook Spartans shutting out the Blazers 2-0.

Warren fared better in the second round. Scott Shaw's goal against the Hinsdale Sting left the game tied at 1-1 at the end of regulation, so the contest went to a shoot-out. Shaw and teammate Stephen Hammer found the net as the Blazers took the shoot-out 2-0.

Saving the best for last, Warren tallied a convincing 4-1 win over the Hinsdale Strikers to close out the tournament. Rittenberry booted home a pair of goals, while teammates Hammer and Spencer Masterson added a goal each.

The final victory made Warren the tourney's consolation victor, with a trophy going to the team and medals to the individuals.

Warren Black Crows

The Warren U-16 Black Crows have spent a lot of time on the road, participating in several tournaments.

At the U-16 tournament held at Soccer Enterprises in Rockford, the Black Crows compiled a 1-1-2 record. They downed Lisle Select 3-0, while tallying ties against Sockers Blue (2-2) and the Magic (1-1). They fell victim to a 2-0 shutout against See SOCCER page C28

Mundelein gymnastic teacher receives national accreditation

Kelly Noonan was one of 76 teachers across the nation selected to attend the inaugural USA Gymnastics Level 1 Kinder Accreditation for teachers (KAT) pilot workshop in New Orleans.

Noonan, preschool director at Gymnastics Spot in Mundelein, completed the accreditation requirements. Workshop attendees were selected after submitting a resume or being recommended by their USA Gymnastics State Director.

The all-day course focuses on educating each teacher about preschool-specific gymnastics. This includes child development, lesson planning, teaching methodology, safety considerations and more. The course provides each participant with the information they need to be effective teachers of pre-school gymnastics.

Lady Lancers seek diversity

More consistent shooting from the perimeter may mean more victories.

At least that is what the College of Lake County's women's basketball team is hoping for as it prepares for a tourney at College of DuPage.

The Lancers lost two more games last week to non-league foes Triton and DuPage.

Triton topped the Lancers 60-45, but there were some good moments. "We played well in the mid portion of the game. We were down 25-8 after 10 minutes, but closed it to 37-36 in the second half," CLC Coach Don Zeman said.

The Lancers could not get over the hump and Triton reasserted its offense.

Nicole Pollard, a Round Lake High grad, led the Lancers with 14 points. "All of her points came inside - that is the only place where we have been able to score. We had some good shots early."

DuPage led 30-18 at the half as the Chaparrals showed why they are a nationally ranked team. Katie Klein, a Grant High graduate, led the Lancers with eight points.

"COD was just too big for us to get any points inside," Zeman said.

CLC, 1-8 overall, is back at COD to face the home team again at 5 p.m. Dec. 29. Blackhawk and Triton are also in the two-day tourney.

The Lancers hope to hold out until the Skyway Conference season begins Jan. 9 with a home game against Morton.

AHS defense steps up; Rams, MHS girls fall

Turning up the heat defensively sometimes means the difference between winning and losing.

Antioch High's girls basketball team saved its best defense for last as it outlasted Crystal Lake Central 26-24 in non-conference basketball action.

"The last three trips downtown, the defense stepped it up. We went to a trap series and it worked. They had some quick guards who were able to dribble out of it, so we did not use it until the second half. The element of surprise worked for us," Antioch Coach Dave Woods said.

The Tigers were ahead by one with a minute to go. Antioch's Carrie Gofron intercepted a pass, was fouled and made the free throw. The same thing happened the next time Central had the ball, with Mary Ipsen making the charity toss.

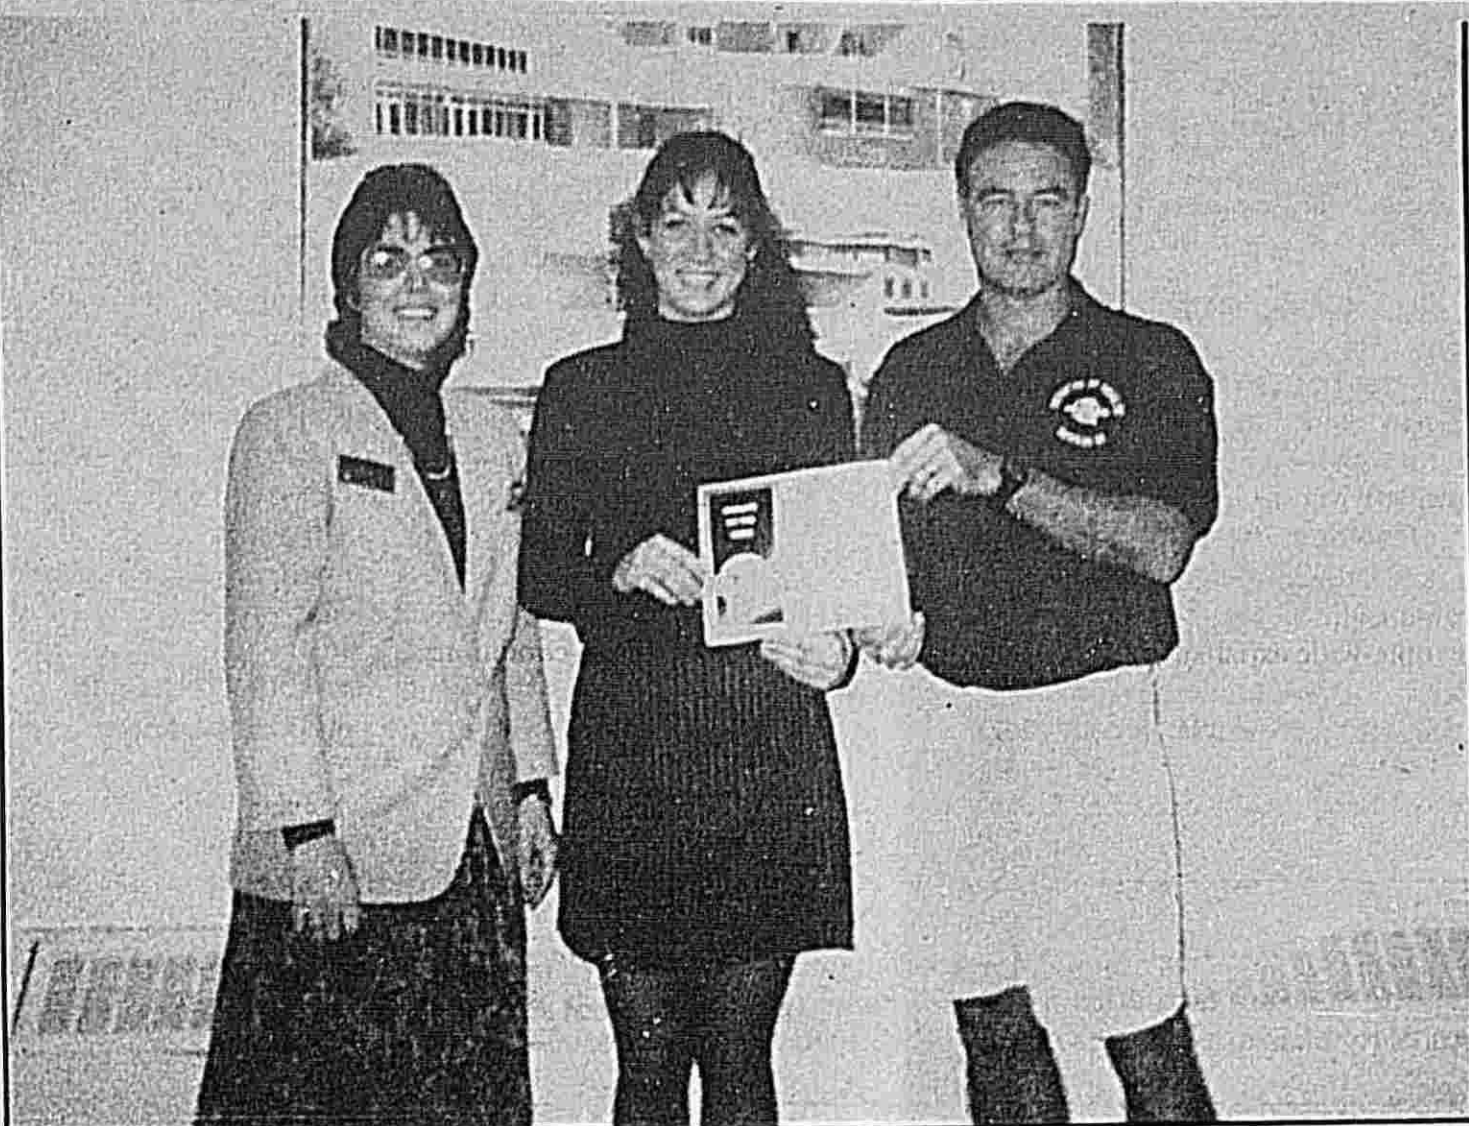

Dana Pierson led the Sequoias (8-4) with nine points. Antioch led 17-10 at halftime but managed just nine second-half points.

"It was one of those nights when both teams were not shooting the ball well. We got through it," Woods said. "Overall, I am pleased with where we stand. We are working to continue to improve and play well after a good start and maintain it in the second half of the season."

Antioch is at the McHenry Christmas tourney this weekend, playing Grayslake in the first round Dec. 21. The semifinal round is Dec. 22 with the finals Dec. 23.

The Rams (1-10) come into the tourney off a 49-34 loss to Zion-Benton Saturday. Amy Artelt led the Rams with 16 points.

In another non-conference girls basketball game Saturday, Rolling Meadows dominated Mundelein (6-6) 55-37. Katie Fitzgerald led MHS with 15 points and Bethany Beasley contributed 10 points.

Athlete of the Week

Antioch High School girls basketball standout Erin O'Connell was named Athlete of the Week by First Chicago Bank/Thelen Sand and Gravel. O'Connell scored 32 points over a three-game period, with 19 offensive and 12 defensive rebounds. The two businesses will make a donation to AHS's scholarship fund in O'Connell's name. From the left are AHS girls varsity coach Dave Woods, O'Connell and Jody Dowell of First National Bank of Chicago—Antioch. — Submitted photo.

Grant, Round Lake to leave marks at Jacobs

Grant and Round Lake will both be heading to the Jacobs Holiday tournament after gaining league winning streaks.

Round Lake crushed Wauconda 83-54 for the second straight win while Grant was surviving a challenge from Marian Central before winning 68-61. Both teams are 4-1 after the first round in NWSC play.

"We like the tournament because you see some above average competition," Grant Coach Tom Maple said.

The tournament in Algonquin had the earliest of all area tourney starts, on Dec. 20 and 21 for the first two rounds. Dec. 22 action pits Cary-Grove vs. Mundelein at 4 p.m., Crystal Lake Central vs. Grant at 5:30 p.m. and Jacobs vs. Round Lake at 7 p.m. Games Dec. 26 feature: Cary-Grove vs. Round Lake at 4 p.m., and Jacobs vs. Grant at 5:30 p.m.

Mike Allen scored 23 points, mostly coming on inside moves, Robert Moore contributed 21 and outside shooting specialist John Stockwell had 15 as the Panthers rolled with 51 points over the second and third periods.

"The first quarter we had pretty good shots, but we could not make them," Round Lake Coach Ron Sapochak said.

Allen sank many mid-range jumpers from 12-15 feet as he made 11 baskets as Round Lake improved to 6-4 overall.

"Defensively, we did a better job than the last two games," Sapochak said. "We feel we can compete with anybody offensively, but we have to play good defense."

Steve Welton contributed 16 points for Wauconda (5-5, 2-3) as the Bulldogs stayed competitive early on. Wauconda is at the Marengo tournament, facing Winnebago at 5:30 p.m. Dec. 27 in first-round action.

Brian Mikels led Grant with 17 points in the seven-point win in Woodstock. "There has been only one game when he has not scored in double figures. Scott Lanners, who was ill for the first few games, is filling in all areas and had a great floor game and Jason Loring is our third double-digit scorer," Maple said.

Mike Nelson, Grant's leading scorer at 19 points per game, scored 13 points. Loring added 14, Lanners had 12.

Another positive for Grant is the one-two center position shared by Adam Mooney and Matt Beyer. "As soon as I think I have settled on one, the other has a good game," Maple said.

Grant (7-2 overall) led by 16 points into the fourth quarter, only to see the Hurricanes' marksmanship trim the lead by 12. Grant held off the charge by making 14-of-20 fourth quarter free throws, with Mikels canning six and Lanners five.

Warren grabs lead in NSC

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

A conference lead but a dose of reality was the results of a weekend of effort for Warren High.

The Blue Devils outgunned Libertyville 67-57 but then saw the six-game winning streak come to an end with a 69-58 loss to unbeaten Deerfield. Warren remains alone on top of first place in the North Suburban Conference thanks to Lake Forest's loss to Stevenson.

"Deerfield is a really good, excellent club. We had some good spurts but they had at least one or two more. They did a better job running the post offense than we did in the post defense," Warren Coach Chuck Ramsey said.

Still, at 6-2 overall, there are a number of teams which would trade places with Warren going into the Christmas break. In fact, although the Blue Devils must find 12 points to beat Deerfield in a possible post-season match-up, the loss may be of benefit.

"Coach Werly (Bill) and I can tell the players what they are doing wrong, but we were winning. Deerfield showed them what they were doing wrong," Ramsey said. "It is not going to be easy. Against these guys, you really have to execute on offense. You have to score. They have two real good scorers (Ryan Hogan and Ryan Casey) who can beat you both inside and outside and get to the free-throw line a lot. They have a lot of ways to score," Ramsey said.

Deerfield (8-0) was led by 32 points from star Hogan, and another 26 came from Casey.

"When I saw the schedule come out, I could see this would be a real big weekend. We are playing the highest rated team in the sectional (Deerfield) and the pre-season conference favorites (Libertyville)," Ramsey said.

Warren's leading scorer, Maurice Foster lit up the scoreboard with 32 points against the Wildcats on the strength of six-count 'em, six, three-point baskets. Four defenders at various times slowed him to 18 points against the Warriors. Luke Moo had 17 points against LHS, 20 against Deerfield.

The loss Saturday may make for a more intense week of practice before the Dec. 28 9 a.m. See NSC page C28

Rams defense sets the tone

Defense was the talk of the Grayslake High boys basketball practices leading up to the Friday night clash with Johnsbury.

The emphasis showed as the Rams cruised to a 68-42 victory to even their Northwest Suburban Conference record at 2-2.

"It was an excellent defensive game. We got off to a good start in the first quarter. After the overtime loss to Wauconda last Friday, we talked a lot about defense and Ram Pride," Rams Coach Greg Groth said.

Luke Kron led the way with a 20-point outing and had nine rebounds. Brian Witt had four three-pointers and 19 overall and Matt Peschke pumped in a pair of treys for eight points.

"Matt played a great game. He had eight points and 12 rebounds. He is a 6-foot forward and had a great night," Groth said.

The 17-3 start by Grayslake was matched by a run by Johnsbury which cut the lead to a single point, 17-16. The lead opened up to 29-18 at halftime and a 22-10 run by Grayslake continued the trend in the third period.

A big factor in the Rams favor was a 44-18 rebounding dominance.

Wildcats claw their way to second-place mat finish at Lyons tourney

The Libertyville Wildcats matmen got first-place performances from Dan Cysewski and Brian Laughlin to take second in the eight-team Lyons Invitational Saturday.

The host squad took first with 165 points, while Libertyville edged St. Laurence with 128 points to that school's 123.

Cysewski, wrestling at 125, won his championship match in style, scoring a 14-5 major decision over his Lyons opponent. Laughlin pulled off an impressive upset for top honors at 189, racking up a 10-2 major decision over his opponent — last year's fifth-ranked IHSA grappler at 171 for Lyons.

Pat Lavery also added some big team points to the kitty, taking second place at 140. Third-place finishers for the Wildcats were Eric Luth (119), Corey Jensen (145) and Len Orlando (160).

Dave Church added a fourth-place finish at 152, while teammates Ben Paterson and Scott Bishop also finished fourth, respectively at 171 and 275.

opener at Pontiac against Bloomington, but it did not take away from a 9-4 Warren run in the final three minutes which settled the issue against Libertyville.

"He played very well at both ends," Ramsey said of Foster.

Foster put home the last of his treys and a block at the other end led to a lay-up for a 52-45 lead after three quarters.

"I feel I can contribute with defense, steals and blocks as well and do other things than score. This win takes us one step higher. We knew this would be a big game for us," Foster said.

"We were getting a hand in his face, but he was in a shooting zone in the first half," Libertyville coach Max Sanders said.

The Wildcats were limited due to the foul problems of J.R. Jurecko, held to six points and five rebounds. "His first three fouls of the half were dumb fouls, so we ended up playing without him. I thought we did a heckuva job without him. That gives us a real good feel for the next time we play them," Sanders said.

Tim Beshel tried to pick up the slack for LHS with three-pointers and led the effort with 15 points. But the team slipped to 2-2 in league games before the Wheeling Christmas tournament.

Warren split the weekend in rebounds, beating Libertyville 34-25 but losing to Deerfield 31-26.

Waukegan outshot Libertyville 95-84 Saturday to drop the Wildcats to 4-4 overall. Lukas McKnight, who scored 10 points against Warren, led the way with a 26-point effort. Jurecko contributed 17 points, Beshel 17 and Travis Gaber 16.

For the tourney, Warren got two goals from Tony Pelletiere, and one each from Matt Johnson, Gary Pearson, Karl Murrow and Chris Punter. Bart Billings, Scott Menzlicker and Clay Scott added assists.

The team also had some outstanding defensive contributions courtesy of Tommy Hasson and Ed Muntand at goalie, and from defensemen Matt Ukena, Matt Kuffel, Clay Scott, Cory Cybul and Billings.

The Black Crows took top honors in the U-16 tournament held at the Indoor Sports Center in Loves Park, winning all four of its matches.

Warren defeated the Eclipse 3-2, Belvidere 6-4, and Spectre 5-0. They faced the Eclipse again in the championship match, this time winning by a 6-3 margin.

Pelletiere led Warren with six goals for the tourney. Pearson added four goals, while teammate Murrow scored three. Kevin Irons and Johnson each contributed two goals.

Warren is also undefeated in league play held at Sports 41 in Highland Park and the Milwaukee Sports Complex in Franklin, Wis.

Grayslake girls capture third in state tournament

Grayslake Middle School's 8th grade girls basketball took third place in the Illinois Elementary School Association's state tournament, defeating Taylorville 36-27 in the team's final game.

After suffering its first loss of the season in an earlier round, Grayslake bounced back in the final game. GMS grabbed a 9-8 edge in the first quarter and never lost the lead. Taylorville did threaten in the fourth quarter, slashing an 11-point lead down to a single point, but the GMS girls held on for the victory.

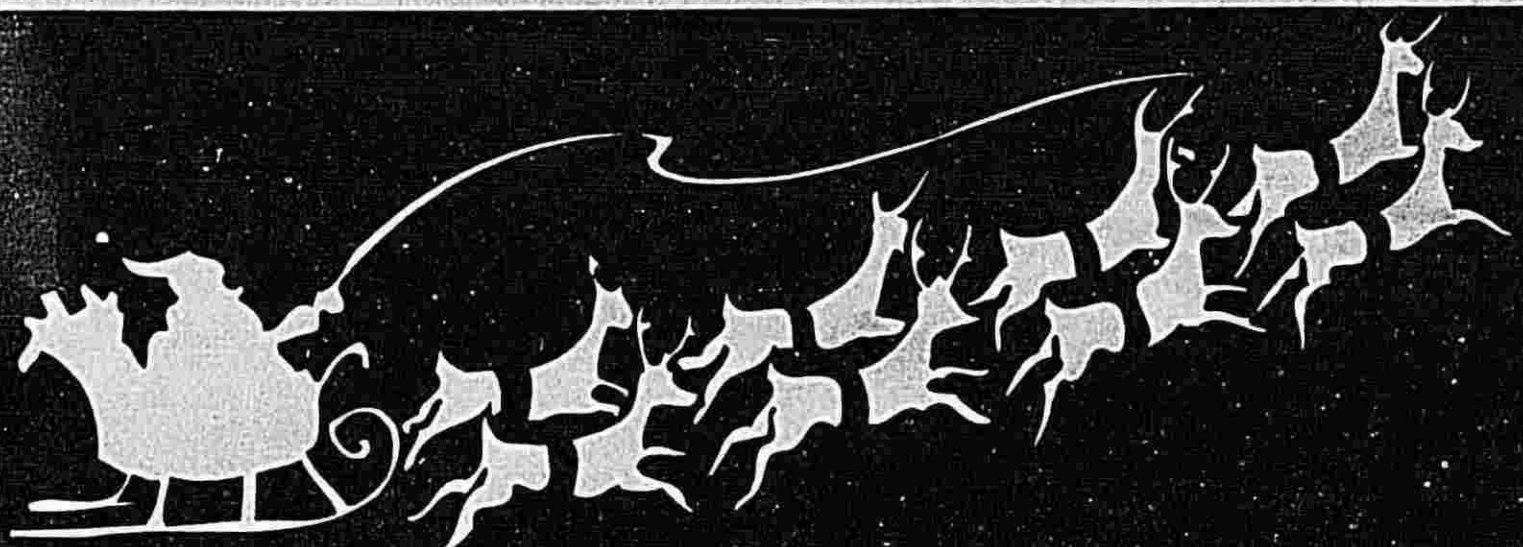

Leading the attack for GMS were Amy Francis, with 12 points and seven rebounds, Jenny Wessel with 11 points and six rebounds, and Morgen Paul with five assists and four rebounds.

Also contributing in the scoring column were Sara Davis and Jelena Vukasinovic with five points each, Maggie Sleman with two points and Katie Acker with one.

Rounding out Coach John Gendron's squad were Carrie Hovik, Christie Wickersheim, Stacy Kinney and Rebecca Johnson.

The team finished the season with an outstanding 21-1 record.

IT'S THE TALK OF THE TOWN

GET IT OFF YOUR CHEST (708) 223-8073

Lakeland
Newspapers

Lipservice is a phone-in column presented as a feature of Lakeland Newspapers. Lakeland Newspapers makes no claim to the authenticity of the statements. Lakeland Newspapers does not claim the content or the subject matter as fact, but as the personal opinion of the caller. Lakeland Newspapers reserves the right to edit copy or to refrain from printing a message. Call in at 223-8073 and leave your message 24-hours a day. Although the call is anonymous, please leave your village name.

Dear idiots

In response to "Help poor dog," and to "Help animals," the call to arms against big, mean, nasty, vivisectionist dog owners like me, there is not enough room in this column for a proper, factual, issue-by-issue rebuttal to your allegations of animal abuse. So instead I shall purge my literary venom in a smaller, more concentrated dose. I am sick to death of the mindless prattlings of nosy little persnickety harpies like yourself. You pathetic shrews make slanderous accusations from the comfort of your picture perfect Martha Stewart-esque yuppie scum cocoons. You half-baked half-wits just sit there on your teal Ethan Allen futons, sipping tepid cafe lattes, spewing forth malice from the comfy, warm fuzzy anonymity of the Lipservice column. You are nameless, faceless, mealy-mouthed scatter-brained cowards. I own the liquor store (and the dog) located on the corner of Routes 60 and 83 at Diamond Lake Rd. I am 6-foot, 2-inches, 365 pounds, and bald. You cannot miss me. If you would like to make these comments to my face or obtain a copy of my reply to your accusations, you may do so any day (except Monday) before Jan. 1, 1996. I suggest you get your facts straight before you try me in the court of public opinion or shut your yap!

Where's it now?

The Fox Lake Grade Schools needs a tax increase? Where's all the extra money the school was receiving when the Lotus school joined the Fox Lake district? Let the people who were telling us then of all the money we were going to get, tell us where the money is now!

Poor sports

This is in response to "Home refs," which appeared in the Dec. 8 Lipservice. Evidently, this person went to a Grayslake/Grant varsity basketball game and thought the refs were favoring Grant. I have news for this person. I was at the Round Lake/Grayslake game in Grayslake a couple of weeks ago and never saw such poor sportsmanship and misbehaved young ladies as those on the Grayslake freshman basketball team. They screamed loudly in the faces of the Round Lake players, and had poor sportsmanship. They ended up winning (as was apparent from the very beginning). I think it's a shame and these girls should be ashamed of themselves.

He's all right

I'm calling in response to the Lipservice on the road commissioner of Antioch. I also live in unincorporated Antioch and have been very happy with the road commissloner's work. I think this person in Woodcrest subdivision who's having so many problems should move out. Everyone else that knows the road commissioner does nothing but praise him.

Parties needed too

To "Holidays are trivial," you say that school is a place for children to get the fundamental education they need to survive. Well, isn't having a happy, jovial attitude at Christmas-time and other times a good thing? Thousands of people are suicidal at holiday time. I think it might be a good thing to do this along with reading, writing, and arithmetic. I guess if the school chooses to keep holidays and religious items from the school, it's something we have to live with. If you're so grieved about the protest against the school, why don't you get rid of your bah-humbug attitude and get happy. Did you miss out on few Christmas celebrations as a child? Have a Merry Christmas!

Shovel your drives

People of Sunside subdivision are morons. They're too lazy and inconsiderate to the needs of other people, including the plow drivers. Why not park directly in the street 24 hours a day, seven days a week. You have drives but are too lazy to shovel and use them. So, inconvenience everyone and park in the street. Hopefully, your car will be removed some day and found to be scrap metal.

Hush-hush plans?

I recently saw the owner of the building where "Fixin's" used to be talking in kind of a hush-hush meeting with the franchise owner of Starbucks and a cute little Italian store that does luncheon meats and catering. Does the owner of that building have some plans in the works? I think it's a great idea. It's just what Grayslake needs!

Nothing but good

Someone took it upon themselves to make Mayor Hamsher of Fox Lake to look like trash. Hamsher is one of the most respectable, thoughtful, caring men in this town. His family has been brought up with religion and deep family love for each other and the community. You are obviously one of the people in Fox Lake who sit back and condemn everyone. God only knows what kind of person you are. This also happened with Pete Jakstas, Dan Jakes, and the Klesgens. Every time they did something good, someone found something to complain about. The fireworks were beautiful; the Fox Lake School Board had a good man in Dan Jakes, someone who really cared; the Klesgens have done good things for this community for years, including keeping our roads beautiful. Now Mayor Hamsher. What next? He's done nothing but good in this town, look around. My dear mother used to say, "If you don't have anything good to say, don't say anything at all." You must be a lonely, pitiful person who can't keep their big mouth shut. What you see is not always what appears to be. If you have an evil mind, then you can make anything look bad.

Bringing out best

James Neal, the Viking Junior High drama teacher, needs to be recognized and thanked for the endless hours he dedicates to this students each year. Each year he undertakes a difficult challenge, working with teens at a difficult age where they're filled with insecurities and doubts. He provides an atmosphere of trust and friendship. Through his guidance, these students transform into self-reliant, confident individuals. I've enjoyed each of your outstanding plays. The performance of "Crying Out" is a wonderful example of the beautiful job you do in bringing the talent out in each of your students. Thanks for continually giving more than 100 percent of yourself to your students. Thanks, Mr. Neal!

Not disgusted

I'm calling from Round Lake in response to "Get with it." The entire community isn't disgusted with Round Lake schools, or with Cruis, principal of Village School. I'm sorry a child was injured on the playground at Village School. Accidents do happen when energetic children play and squabble among themselves. If you feel Cruis made an error in judgment, why don't you request an appointment See LIPSERVICE page C31 and sit down with him to discuss it? He's a caring, professional administrator, and I'm sure he'd do his best to reassure you. As for the two teachers talking to each other on the playground, may I suggest that what you saw was the change of authority which occurs every 10 minutes, when new teachers report for duty. A clipboard containing passes to the bathroom, nurse, and office are exchanged, as is valuable information like the status of conditions on the playground and escalating anger among students. It isn't always chit chat, although pleasanties are exchanged. After all, Village is a pleasant place for children to attend because the staff at Village makes it so.

Best Santa ever

We were in Antioch the night of Dec. 7 and stopped to see Santa. HE was the best one ever. It's nice to see people making the kids feel like Santa was a real person. He took the time to make the kids happy. Thanks!

We're outta here

First of all, I'd like to thank the parents of the shooters in the incident at Kristoff's last week. Your inability to teach your children love and respect has brought my family closer than ever. My child has shown that he loves me (and life) by coming and asking if we can move from this blighted area (Fox Lake). He knows many of these kids involved in these pansy gangs. He has enough trouble keeping his mind on school, than to worry what others think about how tough or brave he is? I don't think you're a man until you've proven how to respect other people, but still provide for your family in a law-abiding way. You think being alone with your buds is tough? Try making it in a business, or feeding and clothing your family without a job, but legally. Majority still rules in this country and majority gives you a bad rap because you don't follow the crowd. In one way that's good, you're independent, and that's a start. But if people in general can't trust you, how will your buds feel about you next week? All I can say is, good luck punks, you're going to lose someday. As for me, I'm out of here!

Wasting money

I'm calling from Fox Lake and I'm damn mad. The village of Fox Lake decided to arrest two people because they had an elephant in Fox Lake. They were right by putting them in jail, but the village lost the case. As a taxpayer, we spent money to take them to court, hire a lawyer, and now we find out they threw the case out of court. I'm sick of the village wasting tax money for lawyers. We should've pressed harder to get a conviction.

Idea long coming

My name is Roy Ronning. I live in Round Lake Beach. I was reading the article on "Teen Court." I suggested this to Round Lake Beach years ago, while we were under Carl Schrimp as well as Mayor Davis. They seemed to see no validity in this. Quite frankly, I thought it was a good idea. I would like to commend the lady who is trying to get this started. I wish that all five communities in the Round Lake area would get together and do this instead of just one township. It should've been done long ago. It might stop some of the graffiti and pranks these kids are committing. It's a shame that our former mayor and current mayor can't see a future for the children in our village, like they do in Round Lake Park.

Save some money

I heard that the Lake County Board, in all their wisdom, has contacted a Chicago design firm to redo the Lake County seal, which is certainly out of date. Can't they keep the money in Lake County? There's certainly enough talent here to do a design that otherwise would cost taxpayers $104,000. Why not a contest? Let the Board know how you feel about this!

At least car's safe

I really enjoyed the call about Gurnee Mills security. They can't stop gang fights in the food court, but they can watch someone's car all night. That's really good!

Ring cares

Mark Ring does care and provide for Antioch Township's needs. Those of us on Country Club Road support him and applaud his efforts. I guess you can't keep everyone happy.

Great job

I'm calling to disagree with the person from Woodcrest who was complaining about Mark Ring. I think he's done a wonderful job this year as well as other years. He's always been available to help out, the roads have been plowed wonderfully, and we have absolutely no complaints in our subdivision.

No Santa?

I'm calling from the village of Grayslake. That's right, Virginia, there is no Santa Claus. Just ask School Dist. 46.

Parties are great

I'm from Grayslake. To the person who wrote that holidays are trivial, I don't understand your way of thinking and beg to differ with you. If holidays are trivial, then let's give up all holidays, vacations, etc., work our brains off, and turn into a bunch of grumps. The holidays we celebrate have been around many years. Children are children once. Let them enjoy it! I'm sure four or five parties a year will not lower the scholastic level. I'm 55 and still enjoy a party and consider myself a "thinking being." Other schools have their parties, so parents let's get ours back, too. In today's world, the pressures are great. I think a few parties can't hurt anyone.

Stop the decline

I'm calling about Lake Zurich's own Mr. Potter, Trustee Jim Weakly. As that character in "It's a Wonderful Life" attempted to stop George Bailey from improving life in his village, so does Trustee Weakly in Lake Zurich. Since he took office, he's been a road block on important issues that affect our lifestyles. Instead of half-acre residential lots that he promised, he's approved smaller lots for projects. Instead of supporting public services for the residents, he suggested he keep our public works employees in scattered sites in residential neighborhoods throughout the village. He suggests we close our main street arteries that cut through one subdivision to another, even though they're critical to our police and fire departments. And even now, he's taken it upon himself to be the dictator of which businesses he feels meet his criteria to do business in Lake Zurich. It's time he realizes that he's a representative of all the people in Lake Zurich and if he can't do that, he should step down now so that we can stop the decline of our village's lifestyle and image.

Quantity vs. quality
How could the Fox Lake village board allow Four Oak's 39 townhomes on 7 acres at Route 59 and Rollins? It's because they're more interested in filling up the village with people for commercial interests than they are in maintaining a quality village. It's about time Fox Lake village residents go to the polls and vote out these politicians who support high-density developments for their own interests. It's been well documented that residential real estate taxes go up fast as over development proceeds.

No turtle doves

I'm calling about the Antioch "Twelve Days of Christmas" promotion. I'm a little upset that they expect me to drive all the way to Antioch for a "smile" on one of the days and some ridiculous other things that don't include any discounts or promotional items. I think it's a joke.

Look for petition

I'm calling from Round Lake. I think it's a shame that Round Lake has decided to put a water tower on Hart's Hill. It's the highest point on Lake County, a natural wonder and thing of beauty and now they've decided to put a water tower there. I feel this is the wrong thing to do and that the public isn't aware of the situation. A petition will be circulated to stop this, so please look for it and sign it.

Great signs

I'm calling about the mayor and village board of Wadsworth, to commend them on the signs placed on the boundaries coming in to Wadsworth. They're gorgeous and make a nice statement. I wonder why there isn't signs at every entrance into the village, particularly along Kilbourne Rd. Maybe it's because the village doesn't want to be associated with the pole barns near there. I wish the nice signs were everywhere.

Friendly town

We just moved to Gurnee from Wheeling and just had a baby girl. I want to say everyone is so nice and friendly. Every time I go to the store people comment on how beautiful my baby is. It's so nice to live in a friendly town.

Memory lapse

I'd like to respond to Jim Segin's letter to the editor published in the paper. You failed to mention that the village board turned down a used car dealership that was supposed to be located where your restaurant is going to be. You also failed to mention the only reason they were turned down was the fact that the riverboat might be near there. If we ever get one.

No job for a lady

I'm from Fox Lake. On Wednesday, Dec. 13, the Silver Foxes had about 80 preschool and kindergarten children come in to the community center to receive their Christmas bags. The sidewalk had snow on it. June Ollerman was outside shoveling the snow and that is no job for her to do. Can't the village clean these walks when it snows?

One positive note

I'm calling from Round Lake Beach and want to wish a Happy Holiday to everyone. I wanted to call in about a positive thing. Lately everyone has been complaining about post offices, etc. I want to say that everyone in Round Lake is doing a marvelous job with the facilities they have. Everyone is courteous and helps out. My postman, Scott Farley, is a wonderful man and good friend. He brings the mail to the door for me in bad weather. This is not a time for negativity, but a time for joy.

Just consider it

This is in response to the bus driver that didn't want to use harnesses. I, too, agree that the children are probably very safe on the bus without the seat belts as long as they're sitting properly. However, the comment about the harness was meant to say if they go with seat belts, not just to use a lap belt. I wanted to point out that just a lap belt can be just as dangerous as no belt at all. Not that I'm pushing harnesses, I'm just telling the people looking at lap belts not to consider just a lap belt if they are going to pursue seat belts at all.

Wrong intent

This is to the scrooges in the Dec. 15 issue of Lakeland Newspapers. I don't think the school's intent was to be scrooges and kick the children off for not keeping up with their grades. I think the intent was to give them incentive to do good in school. You have to think two different ways about what you read.

Shoppers on the lookout for wise buys, unique gifts

SUZIE REED

Staff Reporter

Although general reports indicate retail sales are done throughout the nation, one Lake County retail center is experiencing an increase this holiday season.

At Gurnee Mills, sales are up 8 percent overall from last year, said Director of Marketing Brenda Dunn Kinney. She reported traffic in the giant mall is up 13 percent. The center's reputation for price pointing seems to be paying off, she said.

"People only have a certain amount of money to spend. They want to find the best price and make their money go farther," she explained. Merchants have been displaying items that are moving well, many of those are the more unique gifts. Sales at the Relaxation Station tables are brisk, said Kinney, with people focusing on their health.

Other popular items are audio-video products: the Beatles Anthology with a free CD, the Sinatra Gold edition with every song, and holiday movies such as "The Santa Clause" and "Miracle on 34th Street."

For kids, Power Rangers are still the rage, and it's becoming tougher and tougher to find collectible Barbie dolls, Kinney said.

This week, sales of smaller items have been high, she said, as shoppers finish up their lists with last minute gifts. The huge center is making an extra effort to direct customers to the merchandise they seek.

"We have customer service people out in the mall to locate the things they're looking for," said Kinney. Armed with Rolodexes, these associates can save time with information on which stores carry the desired items.

"We see a lot of people [talking] on cellular phones," she said.

Gurnee Mills officials anticipate opening Tandy's Incredible Universe next fall in the space vacated by Filene's Basement. The 131,000-square-foot electronics giant will carry 85,000 products, with "interactive everything," said Kinney.

Throughout the nation, durable sales are steady or rising while apparel sales seem to be suffering this holiday season.

Officials at Hawthorn Shopping Center were reluctant to speculate on holiday sales, saying it was "too early for figures."

"The traffic has been really good," Assistant Manager Linda Slavin did say. "The cold weather had a negative impact but people are definitely out shopping now."

At Lakehurst Shopping Center traffic has been consistent with other malls and with last year, according to Marketing Assistant Alicia Moore. The extreme weather has had somewhat of an adverse effect on business, she added.

"The weather hasn't cooperated," she explained. "When it's warm, people don't want to be in the mall; when it's cold, they don't want to come outside."

Several special promotions have brought in customers, she said. Free coffee and donuts on Nov. 24 ran out about 10 a.m. Customers who bring $100 worth of receipts to the Information Center receive a special bonus, and the free gift wrap center has been busy.

"The customers have been talking about the bargains in the department stores," said Moore. "They're pretty positive as far as the discounts they've gotten."

Lakehurst has two Salvation Army Giving Trees with about 700 names. The center has been helping the needy in this way for 12 years.

"People are in a very giving spirit," Moore said. "It's a really good opportunity to give back to the community."

Hostess made career of welcoming 24,000 families

BILL SCHROEDER

Publisher

More than 24,000 families got acquainted with Lake County from a friendly Welcome Wagon hostess who has retired after serving as the good-will ambassador for scores of businesses for 40 years.

Viola "Vicky" Reidel was shocked when the impact of that figure hit home. "I never thought of it that way," remarked Reidel, a trim and energetic grandmother whose hobby is ballroom and polka dancing.

"I just kept getting names of newcomers and making my calls. It was never a job. Working as a Welcome Wagon hostess was fun. I made life-time friendships introducing local businesses to new residents."

Born and raised in mid-county Ivanhoe, Vicky was recruited by Welcome Wagon while working as an Avon representative. Her first job was with Abbott Laboratories.

Possessed with a winning smile and an out-going personality that "connects" with strangers instantly, Reidel was a natural for the job that is supposed to be parttime employment. "By the time I'd set up my appointments and complete followup work with sponsors, I usually was busy 35 to 40 hours per week. Reidel set her own pace of 35 to 50 calls of 45 minutes each per week.

"You've got to be a self-starter, a well organized person," related Vicky, 75, who was widowed six years ago. She has sons living in Waukegan and Lake Villa, and five grandchildren.

Reidel normally worked with approximately two dozen merchant sponsors who pay a fee for each call. The Welcome Wagon hostess presents product samples, gifts or an invitation on behalf of each sponsor.

"I had something good to say about everyone," Vicky emphasized as her business credo. She would also answer questions about the community.

Besides her host of friends, Vicky has a treasury of memories, like the time she discovered a house fire on the way to a call and helped the residents remove their belongings before firemen arrived.

Vicky laughed as she recalled the only time she got lost while out on a call. "I had my directions down pat, every turn and landmark. I even had the color of the house, but I still couldn't locate my appointment."

After double checking on the misfire, Vicky said the newcomer explained what had happened. "They had their house painted a different color after I booked a visit and the lady of the house forgot to tell me. She was so embarrassed she called me for years with names of newcomers," Reidel added with a chuckle.

How Welcome Wagon obtains names of newcomers is a closely guarded secret, according to Reidel. The service originated in Memphis, Tenn., in 1928.

Dozens of imitators have come and gone over the years while the Welcome Wagon hostess and her familiar basket of gifts thrives. Reidel was honored at the 50th anniversary celebration of the nationwide service.

Over the years, Reidel worked with merchant sponsors from Lake Villa, Antioch, Fox Lake, McHenry and Grayslake.

"I got so that I was calling on children of some of the original families I welcomed," Vicky related.

Reidel said she took in stride the changes in family life since she broke in four decades ago like two-worker families, single person households, answering machines and the proliferation of unlisted phone numbers.

Vicky said she expects to be as active in retirement as during her Welcome Wagon days with card clubs, family affairs, providing transportation for senior citizens and dance parties, which she attends regularly in Milwaukee.

For one thing, Vicky Reidel isn't looking back. "I sold my basket," she retorted with laughter.

First Chicago, NBD merger complete

First Chicago Corp. and NBD Bancorp, Inc. announced that their merger of equals became effective Dec. 1 with the new company called First Chicago NBD Corporation.

As a result, retail bank customers will be able to use any of the 650 Automated Teller Machines (ATMs) within the First Chicago, NBD and American National networks in the Chicago area at no charge. The ATMs carry First Chicago's skyline of Chicago logo, the NBD logo and the American National eagle logo.

"At this time, however, customers cannot use the other banks' branches because our computer systems are not yet compatible," said James Lancaster, head of retail banking in Illinois for First Chicago NBD. "We ask customers to continue banking the way they have been. We will let customers know when we are able to make their banking even more convenient."

The merger was announced July 12.

"This merger has progressed with tremendous momentum since its inception, evidencing how well the two organizations blend together," First Chicago NBD Chairman Richard L. Thomas said. "We look forward to a very bright future."

First Chicago NBD Corp.'s common stock trades on the New York Stock Exchange under the symbol FCN.

First Chicago NBD is the nation's sixth largest bank holding company with assets of approximately $124 billion. It is the nation's number one provider of banking products and services in the midwest.

Family loans require careful thought, detailed planning

At first blush, lending money to a family member seems to be a relatively easy decision. After all, families should stick together.

But there are many considerations, including details of the loan itself, that can make it challenging, said Larry O'Brien, a marketing vice president at The First National Bank of Chicago.

If, for example, the loan is created in a less-than-business-like fashion, it could draw unwanted attention from the Internal Revenue Service, O'Brien said. And a problem with repayment? That can send ripples throughout the family.

Finally, of course, are the issues of whether the relative has available cash to lend and whether he is comfortable lending to a family member.

"These are among the considerations that go into the decision of one relative lending money to another," O'Brien said in a period feature provided by First Chicago called "Money Smarts." "Many of the same issues are involved with co-signing for a loan with a relative. In both cases, one relative puts his own money at risk for another one."

Some family members may decide it's easier or better for the loan seeker to go to a lending institution such as a bank, O'Brien said. Others may choose to make a gift to help the relative, but let a lending institution make the loan for the balance of the required amount.

If, however, the parents, grandparents or other relatives decide to pull out their checkbook, O'Brien suggests using a written contract or promissory note including such relevant details as:

- amount borrowed;
- interest rate;
- life of the loan;
- repayment schedule, and the date each payment is due.

Monetary gifts should be recorded as well.

"You should consult with your tax advisor or attorney before making any significant loans or monetary gifts," O'Brien said. "A family loan should be structured like any other standard loan to avoid scrutiny by the IRS and to avoid adverse gift and income tax consequences. The tax authorities have an interest in transactions between family members—including those between parents and children."

Take a common example of parents wishing to help their son and daughter-in-law put together a down payment for a home. If parents are giving the money, they should create a gift letter, which is a notarized document stating that the recipient does not have to repay the money and that the gift is not considered a debt of the recipient.

"Each parent can give up to $10,000 a year per individual recipient without incurring a federal gift tax or using up his or her $600,000 lifetime exemption for federal gift and estate tax purposes," O'Brien said. "If Mom and Dad each give $10,000 to their son and the same amount to his wife, they can give $40,000 tax-free to the couple for the year."

O'Brien suggested that families able to make even larger gifts, say $60,000, should consider giving the maximum yearly amount at the end of one year and the remaining amount at the beginning of the next year. "For example, $40,000 could be given in December, and $20,000 given in January," he said.

Then, there's the issue of loans.

"If a parent loans more than $10,000 a year to a family member, the parent could be required by the IRS to show proof that the money was a loan. Otherwise, the loan could be considered a gift," O'Brien said.

Make exercising part of holiday routine

If you're like most Americans, you may be worried that the upcoming holiday season will result in added pounds. You may have good reason for concern, because winter holidays often result in significant weight gain.

"Focusing on family activity and incorporating exercise into holiday plans can mean a healthier holiday season with fewer pounds gained," said Karen Demski, RN, manager of the NutriQuest program offered by Condell's Medical Center Health Institute (MCHI) located in Centre Club, 200 W. Golf Rd., Libertyville.

"Instead of arranging social events primarily around food consumption, families can select fun holiday activities," she said, adding, "It's a great way to burn calories, boost energy levels and cope with stress that the holiday season can produce."

Here are some suggestions from NutriQuest to help cope with holiday temptations:

- Gather friends for a winter hike in a scenic area. Take photos for use on next year's holiday cards.
- Organize a family ping pong tournament with gag prizes for the winners.
- Let family members participate in the production of a holiday video, which covers the activities of family and friends.
- Help children and cousins produce and perform a skit on your family history with costumes, scenery and programs.
- Plan an indoor family swim at a local facility before sitting down to dinner.
- Adopt an elderly couple whose family is too far away to visit. Provide transportation for shopping. Let the children help with gift wrapping and invite your "adoptees" to family gatherings.

• If snow is a part of your holiday forecast, plan a sledding party for adults and children alike.

• If milder weather prevails, plan a family bike trip to and from a favorite breakfast spot.

"Focusing on activities instead of food not only helps with appetite control and fitness levels, it also helps to establish healthy patterns that can extend into the new year," Demski said.

According to Demski, the NutriQuest New Direction Weight Control System at MCHI offers a comprehensive approach to weight control which includes exercise and education, as well as behavior modification.

For more information on NutriQuest, call MCHI at 362-2905, ext. 5770.

Veterinary scientist teaches Pasteur's work

More than 100 years after Louis Pasteur first determined how vaccines prevent disease, the principles of his discovery are used every day by scientists searching for new ways to stop illness in humans and animals. That was the message Dr. Hansi Dean, senior research scientist at Mallinckrodt Veterinary Science and Technology Center in Mundelein, delivered to students at the St. Louis Science Center.

Dean, group leader for viral vaccine development at Mallinckrodt Veterinary, led hands-on demonstrations on the opening day of an exhibition of Pasteur's work, marking the 100th anniversary of the noted scientist's death. The exhibit's stop in St. Louis was sponsored by Mallinckrodt Veterinary, its sister companies, Mallinckrodt Chemical and Mallinckrodt Medical, and parent company Mallinckrodt Group.

The Pasteur exhibit began its American tour in January at the University of Pennsylvania Museum in Philadelphia and by the end of this year will have been in 30 U.S. cities. The photo and video exhibit includes a portrait of the young scientist and retraces various stages of his career, including the study and research of molecular asymmetry, fermentation, spontaneous generation, silkworm diseases, infectious diseases, virus vaccines, rabies treatment and establishment of the Institut Pasteur in 1887.

The Institut Pasteur continues to be a significant center for international biomedical research today. In recent years the Institut Pasteur has been a leading research center for HIV and AIDS, hepatitis, tuberculosis, malaria, asthma, dysentery and genetic diseases.

Dr. Hansi Dean, senior research scientist at Mallinckrodt Veterinary in Mundelein, demonstrates the work of Louis Pasteur during an exhibit in St. Louis, Mo.

United Way donations target community health needs

A variety of infectious and chronic diseases are striking many more people in the five-county area than ever before. An individual's health condition is also often worsened by poor preventative care, access to health facilities and lack of affordable health insurance.

AIDS infection rates in Illinois are steadily increasing. From 1981 through December 1994, more than 85 percent of the 14,299 AIDS cases reported in Illinois came from the metropolitan Chicago area. In Illinois, women accounted for 15 percent of all new AIDS cases and African Americans, both men and women, accounted for 58 percent of the new cases.

Tuberculosis, long thought to be eradicated from society as a whole, has been increasing in Illinois at a rate higher than the national average. Experts blame the weakened immune systems of people afflicted with AIDS and cancer as one reason for the return of TB. Poverty, homelessness and the development of multiple drug resistant strains are other factors contributing to the rise.

Chronic diseases are one of the major health problems facing society. The Illinois Department of Public Health reports that reducing chronic disease risk factors by eliminating smoking, modifying dietary and alcohol intake habits and increasing physical activity can play an important role in preventing heart disease, cancer, stroke and diabetes.

Access to preventative health services can be a major factor in turning around the deadly statistics of chronic and infectious diseases. The fact is, however, that thousands of people do not have the health insurance required to receive these services and are forced to forego health care because the cost is too great.

This begins a vicious cycle for many, in which an untreated health condition escalates into a major health problem requiring even more costly care. According to Crain's Chicago Business, at least 12.6 percent of the area's population has no health insurance. No insurance for childhood immunizations, for treating lead poisoning, for stopping the spread of TB through an individual's lungs, for prenatal care to lower infant mortality and low-birth rate and babies born addicted to crack.

The contributions made by people to United Way allow the metropolitan community to cope with these major public health issues. Last year, United Way provided $5.4 million for health care services in Chicago and 160 suburbs. These services are offered by about 70 agencies which provide hospice, home health care and health services centers, as well as health and safety education and prevention programs.

United Way's support of agencies like Well Child Conference helps provide wellness training, disease prevention, and safety courses to help everyone live healthier lives.

Well Child Conference, located in Elgin, provides preventive health care for children, ages birth to 21, including physicals, immunizations, developmental checkups, lead screenings, health education and nutrition counseling. Services are available on a sliding price scale, ensuring affordability, while Public Aid recipients receive services with no charge.

For more information about United Way-funded health services including programs for people affected by AIDS, call the United Way Community Referral Service at (312) 9906-2425.

Frank to chair Condell Auxiliary's benefit gala

Alison Baker Frank of Highland Park was named the 1996 chairperson of Condell Medical Center's 5th Benefit Gala fund raiser during the 1995 gala.

Frank, a life-long resident of Lake County, recently won reelection to a second six year term as trustee on the Lake County Regional School Board. She is married to Dr. Charles E. Frank, an orthopaedic surgeon at Condell Medical Center in Libertyville. She holds a master's degree in fine arts.

"Next year will be an exciting one for The Auxiliary of Condell Medical Center," said Frank. "Our fifth anniversary will be a real celebration of our ability to contribute to the improvement of health care in Lake County."

The Auxiliary of Condell Medical Center, Unit IV has sponsored the gala held early in November each year. The funds from the event support various services at the medical center.

This year's benefit gala donated an estimated $50,000 to Condell's Children Fund which supports the New Life Center, PACT, a physical therapy clinic for children with developmental and neurological disabilities, the Sports Medicine Program, and Condell Day Center for Intergenerational Care.

Abbott announces expanded program for HIV inhibitor

Abbott Laboratories announced details of an expanded access treatment program that will make its protease inhibitor, ritonavir (formerly known as ABT-538), available in January via a lottery to approximately 2,000 patients worldwide with advanced AIDS. Ritonavir is in clinical development at Abbott for the treatment of HIV infection and AIDS.

AIDS patients who have CD4 cell counts of 50 or fewer and who meet other health status-related criteria will be eligible to apply for the program, which was developed in cooperation with AIDS community representatives. Details regarding the application procedure for the lottery in the U.S. will be provided to patient advocate groups and physicians who treat AIDS patients. Physicians and patients may call 1-800-414-AIDS for additional information and application forms. Information about the program also will be available by several other means: by fax at 1-800-336-2879; through e-mail at ritonavir@pond.com; and through the Internet at <http://www.pond.com/ritonavir>.

Outside the U.S., patients will be enrolled in the program based on physician recommendation. Enrollment for the lottery will be limited to patients over the age of 12.

Ritonavir is a member of a class of investigational compounds called protease inhibitors. In August, Abbott announced to AIDS advocate groups plans to establish an expanded access program for ritonavir.

"Abbott supports the expanded access distribution of therapeutic agents," says Andre Pernet, Ph.D., vice president, pharmaceutical products research and development, Abbott Laboratories. "In the case of ritonavir, we have been limited in our ability to make the drug available sooner through an expanded access program because of the extraordinarily difficult manufacturing process."

"To date, all of the bulk drug that has been needed for the clinical trial program to determine whether ritonavir is safe and effective in the treatment of AIDS," Dr. Pernet adds.

Immunization clinics for children

The Lake County Health Dept. offers immunization clinics for Lake County children. No appointment is necessary. Childhood immunization clinics will be held at the following locations and times. A parent or guardian must accompany all children:

- Lake County Health Dept., Belvidere Medical Bldg., 2400 Belvidere Rd., Waukegan, every Monday from 1 to 3 p.m.; Tuesday, 8 to 10 a.m.; and Thursday, 1 to 3 p.m.
- American Legion Post 867, Rtes. 176, 60 and 83, Mundelein, Dec. 27 from 9 to 11 a.m.
- Highland Park Hospital, 718

Glenview Ave., Highland Park, Dec. 22 from 9 to 11 a.m.

At the clinics, children can be immunized against polio; diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough (DPT), measles, mumps, rubella (German measles), and haemophilus influenza, type B (HIB).

Parents are asked to bring their children's past immunization records. If a child has an immunization letter from a school nurse, it should also be brought to the session.
